Stopping the Spies Jane Duncan, 2018-06-01 Is South Africa on its way to becoming a surveillance state and will it need a whistleblower In 2013 former National Security Agency NSA contractor Edward Snowden leaked secret documents revealing that state agencies like the NSA had spied on the communications of millions of innocent citizens International outrage resulted but the Snowden documents revealed only the tip of the surveillance iceberg Apart from insisting on their rights to tap into communications more and more states are placing citizens under surveillance tracking their movements and transactions with public and private institutions The state is becoming like a one way mirror where it can see more of what its citizens do and say while citizens see less and less of what the state does owing to high levels of secrecy around surveillance In this book Jane Duncan assesses the relevance of Snowden s revelations for South Africa In doing so she questions the extent to which South Africa is becoming a surveillance society governed by a surveillance state Duncan challenges members of civil society to be concerned about and to act on the ever expanding surveillance capacities of the South African state Is surveillance used for the democratic purpose of making people safer or is it being used for the repressive purpose of social control especially of those considered to be politically threatening to ruling interests She explores the forms of collective action needed to ensure that unaccountable surveillance does not take place and examines what does and does not work when it comes to developing organised responses The Palgrave Handbook of Peacebuilding in Africa Tony Karbo, Kudrat Virk, 2018-01-30 This handbook offers a critical assessment of the African agenda for conflict prevention peacemaking peacekeeping and peacebuilding the challenges and opportunities facing Africa s regional organisations in their efforts towards building sustainable peace on the continent and the role of external actors including the United Nations Britain France and South Asian troop contributing countries In so doing it revisits the late Ali Mazrui s concept of Pax Africana calling on Africans to take responsibility for peace and security on their own continent The creation of the African Union in 2002 was an important step towards realising this ambition and has led to the development of a new continental architecture for more robust conflict management But as the volume s authors show the quest for Pax Africana faces challenges Combining thematic analyses and case studies this book will be of interest to both scholars and policymakers working on peace security and governance issues in Africa Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia, Jacob Udo-Udo Jacob, 2025-03-14 The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security conflict violence and peace on the African continent It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community largely because it contributes to the on going debates on security issues Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast Director of the Center for Security Peace and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Africa Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy and new lenses are welcome Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times Dr Sandy Africa Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection MISTRA This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer more prosperous and peaceful Africa Each with their own specialism this work combines many different world views and approaches Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies expositions and themes
