

My Personal Nursing Philosophy

My nursing philosophy is characterized by doing the act of nursing towards my patients through providing care with compassion. These guiding principles/ personal philosophy are products of my interactions with patients, their families and other health care professionals. Through my philosophy in nursing, it affects the choices and decisions I make towards giving the required nursing procedures and care to my patients. For 8 years of being a nurse, I was able to realize that God made me a nurse with a purpose and not just merely reaching my own dreams literally but to touch people's lives in my own act of kindness most especially during the times that they are sick and hopeless in the health care setting.

When I was a student we are oriented that nursing is a caring profession and can be described as both heart and mind. For me, all knowledge and learnings regarding the ideal patient medical interventions would be useless if we do not respect human dignity. Also, as a nurse I must be a compassionate/empathetic enough to the suffering or present health problem of the patient. When we show empathy, we can nurture a collaborative relationship with our patients and it can help us to gather necessary information needed for their care like the causes and explanations that would contribute in determining the right diagnosis of their condition and the most effective treatment they require. Compassionate care makes patients more comfortable with us. Still, it is from the care we provide that we can help the patients recover from their present illnesses. Correspondingly, our expertise along with our passion and strength must go hand in hand for the sake of our patients because our ultimate goal is the safety of our patients. In addition, I always think of the golden rule" Do unto others as you would have them do unto you", I always sympathize with my patients and put their shoes on mine so that I could understand their feelings. So, whenever I think I am a patient, I always want to be treated with care and compassion since no one would love and like to cooperate with a health care provider having negative attitudes because they can have a significant negative impact on the patient's care.

Meanwhile, the progressing role of professional nurses is knotted with technology. Even if technology is important to nursing, nurses must still provide care with compassion to the patients because it will serve as the guiding principle of the profession. In spite of what type of healthcare setting they work in, or what type of role they practice, among health care workers, nurses have the most interaction with patients. Some of the few roles they play include patient supporter, educator, supervisor, and leader. Specifically, providing support is often term to be activity provided within the context of nurse-patient relationship. It is the role of the nurse to support the patient and represent the patients best interests at all times, especially when treatment decisions are being made (Smith, 2019).On the other hand, nurse promote professional role development and growth from nursing novice to expert, help mitigate errors, simplify processes, and identify opportunities to improve processes and mitigate risks to the patient, nurse, and hospital (Walsh University, 2019).In contrast to, a nurse supervisor is responsible for managing staff, overseeing patient care and ensuring adherence to established policies and procedures (Thomson, 2020).Finally, nurse leader will incorporate a

Role Development in Professional Nursing Practice Kathleen Masters, 2005 Designed for use in sequential professional development courses across the curriculum Role Development in Professional Nursing Practice covers role development of the professional nurse as it occurs in three developmental stages moving from the simple to the more complex Nurse as Individual Nurse Client Relationships and Nurse as Member of the Health Care Team Personal Philosophy and Disciplinary Perspective of Nursing Mona Alaanzi, 2016-11-17 Essay aus dem Jahr 2016 im Fachbereich Pflegewissenschaft Pflegemanagement Sprache Deutsch Abstract Gaining more experience and knowledge in philosophy nursing philosophy and the nursing paradigm has helped me to know more about myself as a human being and as a nurse In the process of reading I find it hard to commit to one point of view or one perspective however now I clearly see where I fit My philosophical perspective in general and in nursing specifically are heavily influenced by the empiricism and positivism perspective and ultimately aligns with the totality nursing paradigm From my ontological perspective in general I believe in objectivism that there is a single truth and there is a single reality I believe that we as human beings are always in interaction with the external reality which is the environment I believe that the environment is everything surrounding us and we as human beings interact with and influence the environment and the environment interacts with and influences us in turn In other words if someone follows a certain action he she will be able to predict what the outcomes will be To illustrate if I throw a ball up in the air I expect that it will hit the ground Another example could be if I follow a specific diet and a specific exercise to lose weight then the result will be what I expected which is weight loss unless there are some other contributing factors From my epistemological standpoint I believe that reality can be captured by senses and can be predicted by experience I believe that there is no knowledge without experience To illustrate if someone says an apple is red I can't imagine what the apple looks like if I have never seen a red one before How can one know what something tastes like if they have never tasted it Experience is anything that came across our mind at any certain time in the past I also believe that knowledge can be gained through reasoning According to wisdom in my culture The reason is known the surprise is blown In other words knowledge needs clarifications and explanation so only reasoning can transform sensory data into something meaningful and understandable Juta's manual of nursing Nelouise Geyer, Sophie Mataniele Mogotlane, Anne Young, 2009-02 Completely updated to include the latest developments in the field of Nursing Science this second edition covers the topics required for both Fundamental and General Nursing Science this makes it suitable for the categories of Nursing Auxiliary Staff Nurse and for the fundamentals of nursing for Professional Nurses The manual has a strong community based focus It introduces the nurse to the fundamentals of nursing and is extremely practical encouraging problem solving both in the clinic and in the community Each chapter has tutorial type questions to stimulate discussion and personal research Key Features This updated edition includes a chapter on the important topic of Informatics The text is outcomes based so that students understand the focus of each chapter Numerous line drawings expand on difficult concepts It covers the new curriculum therefore lecturers can be assured the book will meet their needs Summaries of key ethical and legal considerations in each chapter highlight these important aspects The content encourages the development of problem solving skills so that the nurse can deal with problems as they arise in the community clinic environment Self assessment and discussion topics throughout the text test what has been learnt
