Animation between Magic, Miracles and Mechanics Hans Henrik Lohfert Jørgensen, Laura Katrine Skinnebach, Henning Laugerud, 2023-08-18 When it comes to images we are all animists Deep down we all know that images can at least potentially be alive or come to life Nowadays we may tend to rationalize our ingrained animism and explain it away as a mere projection only happening in the space between image and viewer In the Middle Ages however imagery made enthusiastic use of magical miraculous and mechanical means of animation empowered and ensouled by both natural and supernatural principles of life This animist book investigates magic miracles and mechanics as motors of animation and seeks to understand the living image in solidarity with medieval experience rather than dismissive alienation of it Effigies did bleed weep or lactate either through divine intervention or through hydraulic machinery Statues did move or speak either as demonic oracles or as talking heads with implanted speaking tubes Marvels made by magic or by miracles were real as real as the wonders of physical mechanics moving bodily matter We just need to look and listen more carefully to comprehend these fluid realities even when especially when they challenge our received worldview Animation was by no means uncontested or uncontradicted but even its stiffest critics knew that gods and demons could intervene in inanimate matter to set it in motion to speak in tongues and exude the liquids of life

New Light From Heaven Jesus Christ, Virgin Mary, 2017-01-17 Messages From Heaven About the Future of Our World Mary God's Final Preacher God is always trying to lead man away from self destruction He sends his preachers He sends his teachers But these are snuffed out Their words are not listened to and their invitations are rejected So finally he has sent me I am his final teacher his final prophet I am his last opportunity to change the course of history There is no one behind me no other message no other signs than the ones that I will give When I tell the world that it must listen to me I am not speaking from a selfish and arrogant spirit I am speaking as one who sees the destruction the hopelessness of mankind if my words are not heeded

Devotion to the Administrative State Mona Oraby, 2024-03-26 Why the pursuit of state recognition by seemingly marginal religious groups in Egypt and elsewhere is a devotional practice Over the past decade alone religious communities around the world have demanded state recognition exemption accommodation or protection They make these appeals both in states with a declared religious identity and in states officially neutral toward religion In this book Mona Oraby argues that the pursuit of official recognition by religious minorities amounts to a devotional practice Countering the prevailing views on secularism Oraby contends that demands by seemingly marginal groups to have their religious differences recognized by the state in fact assure communal integrity and coherence over time Making her case she analyzes more than fifty years of administrative judicial trends theological discourse and minority claims making practices focusing on the activities of Coptic Orthodox Christians and Bah in modern and contemporary Egypt Oraby documents the ways that devotion is expressed across a range of sites and sources including in lawyers offices administrative judicial verdicts televised media and film and invitation only study sessions She shows how Egypt s religious minorities navigated the political and legal upheavals of the 2011 uprising and now persevere amid authoritarian repression In a Muslim majority state they assert their status as Islam s others finding belonging by affirming their difference and difference Oraby argues is the necessary foundation for collective life Considering these activities in light of the global history of civil administration and adjudication Oraby shows that the lengths to which these marginalized groups go to secure their status can help us to reimagine the relationship between law and religion

Coming of Age in Jewish America Patricia Keer Munro, 2016-05 The Jewish practice of bar mitzvah dates back to the twelfth century but this ancient cultural ritual has changed radically since then evolving with the times and adapting to local conditions For many Jewish American families a child s bar mitzvah or bat mitzvah is both a major social event and a symbolic means of asserting the family's ongoing connection to the core values of Judaism Coming of Age in Jewish America takes an inside look at bar and bat mitzvahs in the twenty-first century examining how the practices have continued to morph and exploring how they serve as a sometimes shaky bridge between the values of contemporary American culture and Jewish tradition Interviewing over 200 individuals involved in bar and bat mitzvah ceremonies from family members to religious educators to rabbis Patricia Keer Munro presents a candid portrait of the conflicts that often emerge and the negotiations that ensue In the course of her study she charts how this ritual is rife with contradictions it is a private family event and a public community activity and for the child it is both an educational process and a high stakes performance Through detailed observations of Conservative Orthodox Reform and independent congregations in the San Francisco Bay Area Munro draws intriguing broad-reaching conclusions about both the current state and likely future of American Judaism In the process she shows not only how American Jews have forged a unique set of bar and bat mitzvah practices but also how these rituals continue to shape a distinctive Jewish American identity
