

The image features a pair of hands, one positioned above the other, set against a dark, textured background. A prominent red-bordered box is centered in the upper portion of the frame, containing the title text. The hands appear to be resting on a surface, with the fingers slightly spread. The overall composition is simple and focused on the hands and the overlaid text.

The Soho Press Book of '80s Short Fiction Dale Peck,2016-06-07 In The Soho Press Book of 80s Short Fiction editor Dale Peck offers readers a fresh take on a seminal period in American history when Ronald Reagan was president the Cold War was rushing to its conclusion and literature was searching for ways to move beyond the postmodern unease of the 1970s Morally charged by newly politicized notions of identity but fraught with anxiety about a body whose fragility had been freshly emphasized by the AIDS epidemic the 34 works gathered here are individually vivid but taken as a body of work they challenge the prevailing notion of the 80s as a time of aesthetic as well as financial maximalism Formally inventive yet tightly controlled they offer a more expansive inclusive view of the era s literary accomplishments The anthology blends early stories from writers like Denis Johnson Jamaica Kincaid Mary Gaitskill and Raymond Carver which have gone on to become part of the American canon with remarkable and often transgressive work from some of the most celebrated writers of the underground including Dennis Cooper Eileen Myles Lynne Tillman and Gary Indiana Peck has also included powerful work by writers such as Gil Cuadros Essex Hemphill and Sam D Allesandro whose untimely deaths from AIDS ended their careers almost before they had begun Almost a third of the stories are out of print and unavailable elsewhere The Soho Press Book of 80s Short Fiction is a daring reappraisal of a decade that is increasingly central to our culture

Identity Theft, Second Edition Debra E. Meyerson, Steve Zuckerman, 2025-09-16

Identity Theft Second Edition is an award-winning book that follows Stanford professor Debra Meyerson's journey to recover from a severe stroke that initially left her physically incapacitated and unable to speak. In addition to providing realistic expectations for the hard work needed to regain everyday capabilities, Meyerson and Zuckerman focus on the less frequently documented emotional journey as she and her family rebuild identity in recovery. Virtually every stroke survivor is haunted by questions like "Who am I now?" and "How do I rebuild a meaningful and rewarding life after losing so much of what they had before?" capabilities, careers, and jobs, relationships, and more. This is a book full of hope for survivors from stroke or other life-changing injuries or illnesses, as well as their care partners, families, and communities. The first edition of Identity Theft centers on Debra's experience: her stroke, her extraordinary efforts to recover, and her journey to redefine herself. But she also draws on her skills as a social scientist, sharing stories from several dozen fellow survivors, family members, friends, colleagues, therapists, and doctors she has met and interviewed. By sharing this diversity of experiences, Debra highlights how every stroke is different and every recovery is different. She provides a valuable look at the broad possibilities for successfully navigating the challenging physical recovery and the equally difficult and frequently unspoken emotional journey toward rebuilding one's identity and a rewarding life after a trauma like stroke. This second edition is written by Debra and her husband Steve Zuckerman. As they have shared in countless talks, just as the original book was headed to the printers, we decided that the finish line had become a new starting line. They co-founded the nonprofit Stroke Onward, where they have been working side by side to build an organization that can catalyze change in the healthcare system to better integrate the emotional journey of rebuilding identity into a lifelong recovery process. This edition draws on five more years of experience as a post-stroke couple and what they've learned from thousands more survivors, family members, and healthcare professionals. They've added new insights about the long-term recovery process and how we can change the stroke system of care to better support all survivors and their families. Their 4,500-mile bike ride called Stroke Across America in 2021 helped raise awareness for Stroke Onward and stroke survivorship care.
