

THE ROOM HAD BECOME UNUSUALLY HOT AND
THE SHEET WAS PULVERIZED
DOWN THE CORNERS OF HER BODY BECAUSE OF HEAT. SHE WORE A CROWN OF SPARKS. IT WAS VERY SPARKY.

BUT SHE DID NOT FEEL
TWOOT. SHE FELT SICK
AND DIRTY AND ON THE BRINK OF TEARS.

TO HER MIGHTY PRIDE FROM, BECAUSE THEY MIGHT SEE THAT SHE COULD NOT CONTROL HERSELF.
THAT'S EXACTLY
WHAT THEY THOUGHT.

THEY WERE LOOKING AT HER AND THINKING ABOUT HER. ABOUT
SHE WITH A TEAR.
BUT THEN, SHE WAS IN ANY PLACE, OF ANY KIND, IT DIDN'T MATTER...

THEIR FEELING WAS ON HER, EXACTLY OVER
SHEA'S FEELING OF SHEA
ALL, LOOKING AT HER
AND THINKING ABOUT HER. ABOUT SHE.

SHE FELT UTTERLY HATED AND ANGRY.
ANGRY NOT BECAUSE OF WHAT SHE HAD DONE, BUT BECAUSE SHE HATED. SHE WAS HATING ABOUT THAT,
BUT HATING OF
THE POLYMER
THOUGHTS THAT WERE FLOTTING IN THE MINDS OF HER. THAT.

SHE COULDN'T WAIT
HER LIFE TO SPEAK
AND THE LACK OF HER
WAS MAKING HER MOUTH TASTE OF COTTON.

The Late Child And Other Animals

Marguerite Van Cook

The Late Child And Other Animals:

The Late Child Marguerite Van Cook, 2014-12-20 Hetty survives the bombing of Portsmouth by the Nazis in World War II only to learn that her soldier husband has been killed on the way back home from North Africa. She must then complete the adoption of her young daughter June alone. A decade later she gives birth to a bastard daughter Marguerite. Now Hetty must go before a tribunal to prove that she will be a fit mother. What follows is the story of little Marguerite's childhood in the recovering British naval port and the rural beauty of the Isle of Wight and in Normandy, France. The journeys and struggles over decades of this mother and daughter are linked in five episodes that veer between lyricism, wry wit, and harrowing suspense. The Late Child and Other Animals is an original graphic novel, a generational autobiography written by legendary punk diva and award-winning poet Marguerite Van Cook, adapted by artist James Romberger, the creator of the Eisner-nominated Post York. The team of Romberger and Van Cook is also responsible for the adaptation and art of 7 Miles a Second, their critically acclaimed graphic memoir collaboration with the late multimedia artist and AIDS activist David Wojnarowicz.

Our Children and Other Animals Matthew Cole, Kate Stewart, 2016-05-23 Focusing on the socialization of the human use of other animals as resources in contemporary Western society, this book explores the cultural reproduction of human/nonhuman animal relations in childhood. With close attention to the dominant practices through which children encounter animals and mainstream representations of animals in children's culture, whether in terms of the selective exposure of children to animals as pets or as food in the home or in school, or the representation of animals in mass media and social media, Our Children and Other Animals reveals the interconnectedness of studies of childhood, culture, and human/animal relations. In doing so, it establishes the importance of human/animal relations in sociology by describing the sociological importance of animals in children's lives and children in animals' lives. Presenting a new typology of the various kinds of human/animal relationship, this conceptually innovative book constitutes a clear demonstration of the relevance of sociology to the interdisciplinary field of human/animal relations and will appeal to readers across the social sciences with interests in sociology, childhood studies, cultural and media studies, and human/animal interaction.

The Climate Crisis and Other Animals Richard Twine, 2024-03-01 The Climate Crisis and Other Animals is a must-read for anyone who cares about the future of our planet and the animals who live on it. Twine examines the impact of the climate crisis on nonhuman animals and argues for the importance of a climate and food justice movement inclusive of nonhuman animals. The book examines the ways in which climate breakdown is affecting nonhuman animal species and delves deeply into the politicised controversy over the extent of emissions from animal agriculture, demonstrating the markedly lower emissions of eating vegan. Critical of misguided human-centred framings of the climate crisis, Twine makes clear the necessity of including practices of animal commodification, the importance of documenting the effect of a changing climate on other animal species, and the mitigative opportunities of a radical remaking of dominant human/animal relations. The Climate Crisis and Other Animals addresses the emissions impacts of radical land use changes and the twentieth century scaling up of animal commodification within the animal industrial complex revealing how this system is interwoven in the gendered and racialised histories of capitalism Twine collates an impressive body of scientific research that demonstrate both the already enormous impact of the climate crisis on the lives of nonhuman animals and the need to tackle the dominance of meat based cultures Twine critically explores approaches to food transition and three potentially transformative scenarios for global food systems that could help dismantle the animal industrial complex and create a more sustainable and just food system Averting the climate and biodiversity crises requires nothing less than a radical transformation in how we see ourselves in relation to other species

The Significance of Children and Animals O. Gene Myers, 2007 Rev ed of Children and animals 1998 Young People and Social Media: Contemporary Children's Digital Culture Steve Gennaro, Blair Miller, 2021-10-05 Young People and Social Media Contemporary Children's Digital Culture explores the practices relationships consequences benefits and outcomes of children's experiences with on and through social media by bringing together a vast array of different ideas about childhood youth and young people's lives These ideas are drawn from scholars working in a variety of disciplines and rather than just describing the social construction of childhood or an understanding of children's lives this collection seeks to encapsulate not only how young people exist on social media but also how their physical lives are impacted by their presence on social media One of the aims of this volume in exploring youth interaction with social media is to unpack the structuring of digital technologies in terms of how young people access the technology to use it as a means of communication a platform for identification and a tool for participation in their larger social world During longstanding and continued experience in the broad field of youth and digital culture we have come to realize that not only is the subject matter increasing in importance at an immeasurable rate but the amount of textbooks and or edited collections has lagged behind considerably There is a lack of sources that fully encapsulate the canon of texts for the discipline or the rich diversity and complexity of overlapping subject areas that create the fertile ground for studying young people's lives and culture The editors hope that this text will occupy some of that void and act as a catalyst for future interdisciplinary collections Young People and Social Media Contemporary Children's Digital Culture will appeal to undergraduate students studying Child and Youth Studies and given the interdisciplinary nature of the collection scholars researchers and students at all levels working in anthropology psychology sociology communication studies cultural studies media studies education and human rights among others Practitioners in these fields will also find this collection of particular interest Animals and Their Children in Victorian Culture Brenda Ayres, Sarah Elizabeth Maier, 2019-11-20 Whether a secularized morality biblical worldview or unstated set of mores the Victorian period can and always will be distinguished from those before and after for its pervasive sense of the proper way of thinking speaking doing and acting Animals in literature taught Victorian children how to behave If you are a postmodern posthumanist you might argue But the animals in literature did not write their own accounts Animal characters may be the creations of writers imagination but animals did and do exist in their own right as did and do humans The original essays in Animals and Their Children in Victorian explore the representation of animals in children s literature by resisting an anthropomorphized perception of them Instead of focusing on the domestication of animals this book analyzes how animals in literature civilize children teaching them how to get along with fellow creatures both human and nonhuman

Children and Animals Frank R. Ascione, 2005 Animal abuse has been an acknowledged problem for centuries but only within the past few decades has scientific research provided evidence that the maltreatment of animals often overlaps with violence toward people The variants of violence including bullying or assaults in a schoolyard child abuse in homes violence between adult intimate partners community hostility in our streets and neighborhoods and even the context of war are now the subject of concerted research efforts Very often the association of these forms of violence with cruelty to animals has been found The perpetrators of such inhumane treatment are often children and adolescents How common are these incidents What motivates human maltreatment of animals Are there cultural societal neighborhood and family contexts that contribute to cruelty to animals How early in a child s life does cruelty to animals emerge and are these incidents always a sign of future interpersonal violence Are there ways of preventing such cruelty Can we intervene effectively with children who already have a history of abuse and violence Children and Animals Exploring the Roots of Kindness and Cruelty presents the current scientific and professional wisdom about the relation between the maltreatment of animals and interpersonal violence directed toward other human beings However the author Frank R Ascione a noted expert in these areas writes in a style and presents the findings in a language that will be understandable to parents teachers counselors clergy animal welfare professionals foster parents mental health professionals youth workers law enforcement professionals and anyone else whose work or interest crosses into the lives of children and adolescents

Routledge Handbook of Human-Animal Studies Garry Marvin, Susan McHugh, 2014-04-16 Human animal studies is an academic field that has grown exponentially over the past decade It explores the whys hows and whats of human animal relations why animals are represented and configured in different ways in human cultures and societies around the world how they are imagined experienced and given significance what these relationships might signify about being human and what about these relationships might be improved for the sake of the individuals as well as the communities concerned The Routledge Handbook of Human Animal Studies presents a collection of original essays from artists and scholars who have established themselves internationally on the basis of specific and significant new contributions to human animal studies This international interdisciplinary handbook will be of interest to students and scholars of human animal studies sociology anthropology biology environmental studies geography cultural studies history philosophy media studies gender studies literature psychology ethology and visual studies

A Social Archaeology of Roman and Late Antique Egypt Ellen Swift, Jo Stoner, April Pudsey, 2021-11-11 Artefact evidence has the unique power to illuminate many aspects of life that are rarely explored in written sources yet this potential has been underexploited in research on Roman and Late Antique Egypt This book presents the first in depth study that uses everyday artefacts as its principal source of evidence to transform our understanding of the society and culture of Egypt during these periods It represents a fundamental reference work for scholars with much new and essential information on a wide range of artefacts many of which are found not only in Egypt but also in the wider Roman and late antique world By taking a social archaeology approach it sets out a new interpretation of daily life and aspects of social relations in Roman and Late Antique Egypt contributing substantial insights into everyday practices and their social meanings in the past Artefacts from University College London s Petrie Museum of Egyptian Archaeology are the principal source of evidence most of these objects have not been the subject of any previous research The book integrates the close study of artefact features with other sources of evidence including papyri and visual material Part one explores the social functions of dress objects while part two explores the domestic realm and everyday experience An important theme is the life course and how both dress related artefacts and ordinary functional objects construct age and gender related status and facilitate appropriate social relations and activities There is also a particular focus on wider social experience in the domestic context as well as broader consideration of economic and social changes across the period
