Parker, 1999-01-01 Examining inscriptions on landscape paintings and related documents this book explores the views of the two jewels of Japanese Zen literature Gido Shushin 1325 1388 and Zekkai Chushin 1336 1405 and their students These monks played important roles as advisors to the shoguns Ashikaga Yoshimitsu 1358 1408 and Yoshimochi 1386 1428 as well as to major figures in various michi or Ways of linked verse the No theatre ink painting rock gardens and other arts By applying images of mountain retreats to their busy urban lives in the capital these Five Mountain Zen monks provoke reconsiderations of the relation between secular and sacred and nature and culture The Primacy of the Image in

Northern European Art, 1400-1700 Debra Cashion, Henry Luttikhuis, Ashley West, 2017-08-21 The Primacy of the Image in Northern Art 1400 1700 Essays in Honor of Larry Silver is an anthology of 42 essays written by distinguished scholars on current research and methodology in the art history of Northern Europe of the late medieval and early modern periods Written in tribute to Larry Silver Farquhar Professor of the History of Art at the University of Pennsylvania the topics are inspired by Professor Silver's renowned scholarship in these areas Early Netherlandish Painting and Prints Sixteenth Century Netherlandish Painting Manuscripts Patrons and Printed Books Dider and the Power of Pictures Prints and Printmaking and Seventeenth Century Painting Studies of specific artists include Hans Memling Albrecht Dürer Hans Baldung Grien Hieronymus Bosch Pieter Bruegel Hendrick Goltzius and Rembrandt Excursions in Identity Laura Nenzi, 2008-04-16 In the Edo period 1600 1868 status and gender based expectations largely defined a person's place and identity in society The wayfarers of the time however discovered that travel provided the opportunity to escape from the confines of the everyday Cultured travelers of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries wrote travel memoirs to celebrate their profession as belle lettrists For women in particular the open road and the blank page of the diary offered a precious opportunity to create personal hierarchies defined less by gender and more by culture and refinement After the mid eighteenth century which saw the popularization of culture and the rise of commercial printing textbooks guides comical fiction and woodblock prints allowed not a few commoners to acquaint themselves with the historical lyrical or artistic pedigree of Japan's famous sites By identifying themselves with famous literary and historical icons of the past some among these erudite commoners saw an opportunity to rewrite their lives and re create their identities in the pages of their travel diaries The chapters in Part One Re creating Spaces introduce the notion that the spaces of travel were malleable accommodating reconceptualization across interpretive frames Laura Nenzi shows that far from being static backgrounds these travelscapes proliferated in a myriad of loci where one person's center was another's periphery In Part Two Re creating Identities we see how in the course of the

Edo period educated persons used travel to or through revered lyrical sites to assert and enhance their roles and identities. Finally in Part Three Purchasing Re creation Nenzi looks at the intersection between recreational travel and the rising commercial economy which allowed visitors to appropriate landscapes through new means monetary transactions acquisition of tangible icons or other forms of physical interaction Poetry and Painting in Song China Alfreda Murck,2020-10-26 Throughout the history of imperial China the educated elite used various means to criticize government policies and actions During the Song dynasty 960 1278 some members of this elite found an elegant and subtle means of dissent landscape painting By examining literary archetypes the titles of paintings contemporary inscriptions and the historical context Alfreda Murck shows that certain paintings expressed strong political opinions some transparent others deliberately concealed She argues that the coding of messages in seemingly innocuous paintings was an important factor in the growing respect for painting among the educated elite and that the capacity of painting s systems of reference to allow scholars to express dissent with impunity contributed to the art s vitality and longevity Ideas and Art in Asian Civilizations Kenneth R. Stunkel,2015-05-11 This work covers topics related to the exercise of influence by individuals and groups within organizations It includes an introductory group of articles dealing with the nature of influence processes and power With more than two thirds fresh material this new updated edition of Organizational Influence Processes provides an overview of the most important scholarly work on topics related to the exercise of influence by individuals and groups within organizations In selecting articles for inclusion the editors were guided by the conviction that the most useful and interesting way to view organizational influence is to take a directional approach that is to consider the process from the perspective of downward lateral and upward influence They have organized the readings around this framework preceded by an introductory group of articles dealing more generally with the nature of influence processes and power The book includes both classic readings and the latest cutting edge research from some of the most respected experts writing in the field It will be equally useful for any upper level undergraduate or graduate course concerned with organizational behavior group behavior leadership or power and politics The Three Perfections: Japanese Poetry, Calligraphy, and Painting John T. Carpenter,Tim T. Carpenter,Midori Oka,2018-02-26 With a shared reverence for the arts of Japan T Richard Fishbein and his wife Estelle P Bender assembled an outstanding and diverse collection of paintings of the Edo period 1615 1868 The Poetry of Nature offers an in depth look at more than forty works from their collection that together trace the development of the major schools and movements of the era Rinpa Nanga Zen Maruyama Shij and Ukiyo e from their roots in Heian court culture and the Kano and Tosa artistic lineages that preceded them Insightful essays by John T Carpenter and Midori Oka reveal a unifying theme the celebration of the natural world expressed in varied forms from the bold graphic manner of Rinpa to the muted sensitivity of Nanga Lavishly illustrated these works draw particular focus to the unique intertwinement of poetry and the pictorial arts that is fundamental to the Japanese tradition In addition to providing new readings and translations of Japanese and Chinese poems The Poetry of Nature sheds new light on the ways in which Edo artists used verse to transform their paintings into a hybrid literary and visual art p 1

Crowley,2007-03-31 This book uses the haikai verse and paintings of the brilliant innovative artist Yosa Buson 1716 1783 as a focal point from which to explore how Japanese writers competed for artistic authority in a time when popular responses to economic technological and social changes were creating the beginnings of a modern literature The first part of the book discusses Buson s role in the Bash Revival movement situating his haikai in the context of the social networks that writers of his time both relied on and resisted The second part explores Buson s hokku linked verse and haiga haikai painting The book concludes with a discussion of Buson s reception in the modern period and includes translations of his principal works

Geng,2018-04-17 In this book Yan Geng examines Mao s image from the perspective of its producers focusing on four artists chosen for both the diverse media they worked in and their diverse backgrounds The book suggests an alternative perspective on the making of propaganda not only as a politically themed representation but also as an expression of artists subjectivities and their roles as pivotal agents in the transition of modern Chinese art history Mao s Image Artists and China s 1949 Transition demonstrates how artists portrayed Mao as the nation s leader during the early People s Republic and what such images reveal about Chinese artists experience during the Communist takeover of the country Beyond the Great Wave James King,2010 The Japanese landscape print has had a tremendous influence on Western art of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries In Japan and in the West it is often seen as the dominant form in Ukiyo e pictures from the floating world And yet for all its importance it is a genre whose history has never been written Beyond The Great Wave is a survey or overview for all those interested in discovering the inner dynamics of one of art history's most remarkable achievements. However, it is also a quest narrative in which landscapes and notions of Japan as a homeland are intertwined and interconnected. Although there has never been a book-length study of the Japanese landscape print in either Japanese or English, a great deal has been written about the two giants of the genre, Hokusai and Hiroshige. From what traditions did these two nineteenth-century artists emerge? Who were their predecessors? What influence, if any, did they have on other Ukiyo-e artists? Can their influence be seen in the shin hanga and saku hanga artists of the twentieth century? This book addresses these issues but it also looks at a number of other factors such as the growth of tourism in nineteenth-century Japan, necessary for understanding this genre.

Geo-Narratives of a Filial Son Elizabeth Kindall, 2020-05-11. Huang Xiangjian, a mid-seventeenth-century member of the Suzhou local elite, journeyed on foot to southwest China and recorded its sublime scenery in site-specific paintings. Elizabeth Kindall's innovative analysis of the visual experiences and social functions Huang conveyed through his oeuvre reveals an unrecognized tradition of site paintings here labeled geo narratives that recount specific journeys and create meaning in the paintings. Kindall shows how Huang created these geo narratives by drawing upon the Suzhou place painting tradition as well as the encoded experiences of southwestern sites discussed in historical gazetteers and personal travel records and the geography of the sites themselves. Ultimately, these works were intended to create personas and fulfill specific social purposes among the educated class during the Ming-Qing transition. Some of Huang's paintings of the southwest, together with his travel records, became part of a campaign to attain the socially generated title of Filial Son, whereas others served private functions. This definitive study elucidates the context for Huang Xiangjian's painting and identifies geo narrative as a distinct landscape painting tradition lauded for its naturalistic immediacy experiential topography and dramatic narratives of moral persuasion class identification and biographical commemoration
