The Marlow's English Edition:

Faust; ... translated into English prose ... by A. Hayward. Second edition Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, 1834

Modernism, Nationalism, and the Novel Pericles Lewis, 2000-04-24 In Modernism Nationalism and the Novel first published in 2000 Pericles Lewis shows how political debates over the sources and nature of national character prompted radical experiments in narrative form amongst modernist writers Though critics have accused the modern novel of shunning the external world Lewis suggests that far from abandoning nineteenth century realists concern with politics the modernists used this emphasis on individual consciousness to address the distinctively political ways in which the modern nation state shapes the psyche of its subjects Tracing this theme through Joyce Proust and Conrad amongst others Lewis claims that modern novelists gave life to a whole generation of narrators who forged new social realities in their own images Their literary techniques multiple narrators transcriptions of consciousness involuntary memory and arcane symbolism focused attention on the shaping of the individual by the nation and on the potential of the individual in time of crisis to redeem the nation

Shakespeare, Marlow and the Politics of France R. Hillman, 2002-04-09 Taking a wide ranging intertextual approach Richard Hillman sets Early Modern English play texts against political and cultural discourses concerning France as these informed contemporary English consciousness The English works explored go beyond those directly representing French affairs the French examples include dramatic treatments of Joan of Arc and of the assassination of the Guises by Henri III In addition to its fresh readings of some familiar plays the book proposes as unique to the English French dynamic a theoretical model relating history discourse and subjectivity

Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness Harold Bloom, 2008 Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness is not simply a critique of colonialism in the Congo it is an examination of the human tendency toward self endangering corruptibility In this updated collection of critical essays master literary scholar Harold Bloom suggests that this resonant work has taken on the power of myth Book jacket

Conrad's Marlow Paul Wake, 2007-10 Reading Conrad's fiction alongside the work of Benjamin Blanchot Derrida and Heidegger and offering an investigation into the connection between narrative and death this book argues that Marlow's essence is located in his liminality and that the meaning in his stories is at all points bound up with the process of his storytelling

The Literature of Connection David Trotter, 2020-06-10 This book is about some of the ways in which the world got ready to be connected long before the advent of the technologies and the concentrations of capital necessary to implement a global network society It investigates the prehistory not of the communications revolution brought about by advances in electronic digital computing from 1950 onwards but of the principle of connectivity which was to provide that revolution with its justification and rallying cry Connectivity's core principle is that what matters most in any act of telecommunication and sometimes all that matters is the fact of its having happened During the nineteenth century the principle gained steadily increasing traction by means not only of formal systems such as the telegraph but of an array of improvised methods and signalling devices These methods and devices fulfilled not just an ever more urgent need but a fundamental recurring desire for near instantaneous real time communication at a distance Connectivity became an end in itself a complex vivid unpredictable romance woven through the enduring human desire and need for remote intimacy Its magical enhancements are the stuff of tragedy comedy satire elegy lyric melodrama and plain description of literature in short The book develops the concepts of signal medium and interface to offer in its first part an alternative view of writing in Britain from George Eliot and Thomas Hardy to D H Lawrence Hope Mirrlees and Katherine Mansfield and in its second case studies of European and African American fiction and of interwar British cinema designed to open the topic up for further enquiry

The Shadow-Line Joseph Conrad,2003-11-13 A sudden passion of anxious impatience rushed through my veins and gave me such a sense of the intensity of existence as I have never felt before or since link title to catalogue entry exact date Written in 1915 The Shadow Line is based upon events and experiences from twenty seven years earlier to which Conrad returned obsessively in his fiction A young sea captain s first command brings with it a succession of crises his sea is becalmed the crew laid low by fever and his deranged first mate is convinced that the ship is haunted by the malignant spirit of a previous captain This is indeed a work full of sudden passions in which Conrad is able to show how the full intensity of existence can be experienced by the man who in the words of the older Captain Giles is prepared to stand up to his bad luck to his mistakes to his conscience A subtle and penetrating analysis of the nature of manhood The Shadow Line investigates varieties of masculinity and desire in a subtext that counterpoints the tale s seemingly conventional surface
