Schoop, 2017-04-21 Since the turn of the century the impact of digital technologies on the promotion production and distribution of music in the Philippines has both enabled and necessitated an increase in independent musical practices In the first in depth investigation into the independent music scene in the Philippines Monika E Schoop exposes and portrays the as yet unexplored restructurings of the Philippine music industries showing that digital technologies have played an ambivalent role in these developments While they have given rise to new levels of piracy they have also offered unprecedented opportunities for artists The near collapse of the transnational recording industry in the Philippines stands in stark contrast to a thriving independent music scene in the country s national capital region Metro Manila which cuts across musical genres and whose members successfully adjust to a rapidly evolving industry scenario Independent practices have been facilitated by increased access to broadband Internet the popularity of social media platforms and home recording technology At the same time changing music industry structures often leave artists with no other option but to operate independently Based on extensive fieldwork online and offline the book explores the diverse and innovative music production distribution promotion and financing strategies that have become constitutive of the independent music scene in twenty first century Manila

Journalism and Political Exclusion Debra M. Clarke, 2014-08-30 The constraints of news production and the consequent limitations of news result directly in dissatisfaction throughout news audiences News stories are frequently found to be inadequately informative to the extent that journalism is more inclined to generate political disenchantment rather than prompt its audiences to pursue a fully engaged level of political participation in their societies Journalism and Political Exclusion provides a multi method integrated analysis of news production and news audiences including a long term study of community activists in a central Canadian city During the seven year fieldwork period different groups of research participants completed questionnaires wrote news diaries and were interviewed in their homes while viewing network television newscasts Clarke shows that frustrations with the informational limitations of television and other news media are accelerated among women and the working class often lack opportunities to access alternative information sources The critical contribution of journalism to the production and reproduction of ideas about social reality is frequently acknowledged and assumed yet rarely investigated and demonstrated Through an examination of the everyday realities of both news production and news reception Journalism and Political Exclusion also shows how the current crises of professional journalism heighten the level of political exclusion experienced by various social groups
