American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Record, 1902 How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck Steve Stockman, 2011-06-02 Newly updated and revised How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck is a quick and easy guide that will make your video better instantly whether you read it cover to cover or just skim a few chapters. It's about the language of video and how to think like a director regardless of equipment; amateurs think about the camera, pros think about communication. It's about the rules developed over a century of movie making which work just as well when shooting a two-year-old's birthday party on your phone. Written by Steve Stockman, the director of the award-winning feature Two Weeks plus, TV shows, music videos, and hundreds of commercials, How to Shoot Video That Doesn't Suck explains in 74 short, pithy, insightful chapters how to tell a story and entertain your audience. In other words, how to shoot video people will want to watch. Here's how to think in shots, how to move, point, shoot, stop, repeat, instead of planting yourself in one spot and pressing Record for five minutes. Why never to shoot until you see the whites of your subject's eyes. Why to zoom with your feet and not the lens. How to create intrigue on camera. The book covers the basics of video production: framing, lighting, sound, use an external mic, editing, special effects, turn them off, and gives advice on shooting a variety of specific situations: sporting events, parties, and family gatherings, graduations, and performances. Plus how to make instructional and promotional videos, how to make a music video, how to capture stunts, and much more. At the end of every chapter is a suggestion of how to immediately put what you've learned into practice so the next time you're shooting, you'll have begun to master the skill. Steve's website, stevestockman.com, provides video examples to illustrate different production ideas, techniques, and situations, and his latest thoughts on all things video.

Huffstetler, 2017-09-28 Responding to the Light draws together a collection of profound and beautiful seasonal reflections from the beginning of Advent to the end of Epiphany by one of the finest voices in Anglican spirituality. They are also suitable for individual devotional reading. Mark Oakley provides a foreword to the collection.
