The Long Fall The Hawk And The Dove:

The Beautiful Thread Penelope Wilcock, 2016-02-19 William de Bulmer no longer a monk but still a most capable administrator returns to St Alcuin's to help the new cellarer manage the challenges of a big society wedding. But this event fraught with difficult relationships coincides with their regular Bishop's Visitation. William tries to conceal his presence from Bishop Eric who wants to bring him to justice for the felony of breaking his monastic vows and the grave sin of attempting suicide. Astute and zealous the bishop sets out to hunt William down. Meanwhile the arrival of Brother Conradus's mother brings problems of a completely different nature. As the story unfolds a beautiful thread of loving kindness weaves quietly through the contrasting colours of human frailty, religious zeal and social pretension. The Long Fall Penelope Wilcock, 2015-02-20 In this concluding volume of The Hawk and The Dove trilogy The Long Fall deals with the slow decline of Peregrine's powers as he slides gradually into dementia. Peregrine, strong and beloved abbot of St Alcuin's monastery, suffers a stroke. Now incapacitated, he begins an arduous recovery with the help of his brothers in the infirmary. Brother Tom, the young monk closest to him, is horrified by the suffering Peregrine's illness has inflicted. He keeps his distance out of his depth. How will he find the courage to make this demanding journey of vulnerability with his friend? How will they communicate now that Peregrine can no longer speak? How will Tom respond to the terrible secret promise his abbot asks him to make? In this journey to the depths of humanity the two men discover together the treasures of darkness and the intimate mystery of compassion. Engaging and beautifully written, warm and haunting, The Long Fall concludes the first trilogy in the Hawk and the Dove series. The Breath of Peace Penelope Wilcock, 2016-02-19 Madeleine Hazell and William de Bulmer have been married a year. She is a healer, a wise woman, practical, intelligent and blunt. He is not only an ex-monk but an ex-abbot, a man accustomed to authority, a gifted administrator at home with figures but less capable in such matters as shutting up chickens for the night. They are deeply irrevocably in love. And every conversation may become a battlefield that leaves both wounded and resentful. When the aged monk who served as cellarer dies, Father John, the Abbot of nearby St Alcuin's Abbey, finds himself critically short-handed. Who will handle the rents, the provisions? He is a gifted infirmarian, a capable leader, but estate management is beyond his competence. With a sense of rising panic, he turns to his friend, the man who renounced his vows for love, the former Father William, only to find that his own pastoral skills may be required in matters matrimonial. Stress of War, Conflict and Disaster George Fink, 2010-11-25 Stress is a universal phenomenon that impacts adversely on most people. Human Instinct Lord Robert Winston, 2011-05-31 From caveman to modern man Few people doubt that humans are descended from the apes fewer still consider let alone accept the psychological implications But in truth man not only looks moves and breathes like an ape he also thinks like one Sexual drive survival competition aggression all of our impulses are driven by our human instincts They explain why a happily married man will fantasize about the pretty slim young woman sitting across from him in the tube and why thousands of people spend their week entirely focused on whether their team will win their next crucial match But how well do our instincts equip us for the twenty first century Do they help or hinder us as we deal with large anonymous cities stressful careers relationships and the battle of the sexes In this fascinating book Robert Winston takes us on a journey deep into the human mind Along the way he takes a very personal look at the relationship between science and religion and explores those very instincts that make us human

The Balance of Nature and Human Impact Klaus Rohde, 2013-02-14 It is clear that nature is undergoing rapid changes as a result of human activities such as industry agriculture travel fisheries and urbanisation What effects do these activities have Are they disturbing equilibria in ecological populations and communities thus upsetting the balance of nature or are they enhancing naturally occurring disequilibria perhaps with even worse consequences It is often argued that large scale fluctuations in climate and sea levels have occurred over and over again in the geological past long before human activities could possibly have had any impact and that human effects are very small compared to those that occur naturally Should we conclude that human activity cannot significantly affect the environment or are these naturally occurring fluctuations actually being dangerously enhanced by humans This book examines these questions first by providing evidence for equilibrium and non equilibrium conditions in relatively undisturbed ecosystems and second by examining human induced effects

Migration in Africa Michiel de Haas, Ewout Frankema, 2022-03-30 This book introduces readers to the age of intra African migration a period from the mid 19th century onward in which the center of gravity of African migration moved decisively inward Most books tend to zoom in on Africa's external migration during the earlier intercontinental slave trades and the more recent outmigration to the Global North but this book argues that migration within the continent has been far more central to the lives of Africans over the course of the last two centuries The book demonstrates that only by taking a broad historical and continent wide perspective can we understand the distinctions between the more immediate drivers of migration and deeper patterns of change over time During the 19th century Africa's external slave trades gradually declined whilst Africa's expanding commodity export sectors drew in domestic labor This led to an era of heightened mobility within the region marked by rapidly rising and vanishing migratory flows increasingly diversified landscapes of migration systems and profound long term shifts in the wider patterns of migration This era of inward focused mobility reduced with a resurgence of outmigration after 1960 when Africans became more deliberate in search of extra continental destinations with new diaspora communities emerging specifically in the Global North Broad ranging in its temporal spatial and thematic coverage this book provides students and researchers with the perfect introduction to age of intra African migration
