Griffith Thomas,2017-06-12 GRACE AND HOLINESS Now God Himself and our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ direct our way unto you And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another and toward all men even as we do toward you To the end He may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God even our Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints 1 Thess iii 11 13 There are few more precious subjects for meditation and imitation than the prayers and intercessions of the great Apostle He was a man of action because he was first and foremost a man of prayer To him both aspects of the well known motto were true To pray is to labour and To labour is to pray There is no argument for or justification of prayer nor even an explanation It is assumed to be the natural and inevitable expression of spiritual life Most of the Apostle s prayers of which we have a record are concerned with other people rather than with himself and they thus reveal to us indirectly but very really what St Paul felt to be the predominant needs of the spiritual life In this series of studies we propose to look at some of these prayers and to consider their direct bearing upon our own lives Taking the Epistles in what is generally regarded to be their chronological order we naturally commence with the prayer found in 1 Thess iii 11 13 In this passage we have what is not often found a prayer for himself associated with prayer for others 1 His Prayer for Himself ver 11 Let us notice Who it is to Whom he prays God Himself and our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ The association of Christ with God as One to Whom prayer is addressed is of course very familiar to us but it ought never to be forgotten that when the Apostle penned these words the association was both striking and significant For consider these words were written within twenty five years of our Lord s earthly life and ascension and yet here is this quiet but clear association of Him with the Father thus testifying in a very remarkable and convincing way to His Godhead as the Hearer of prayer And this fact is still more noticeable in the original for St Paul in this verse breaks one of the familiar rules of grammar whether of Greek or English It is well known that whenever there are two nouns to a verb the verb must be in the plural and yet here the Greek word direct is in the singular notwithstanding the fact that there are two subjects the Father and Christ The same feature is to be found in 2 Thess ii 17 It is evident from this what St Paul thought of our Lord Jesus Christ and it is in such simple indirect testimonies that we find the strongest and most convincing proofs that the early Church believed in the Deity of our Lord Let us consider what it is for which he prays Direct our way He asks for guidance There had been certain difficulties in the way of his return to Thessalonica He had been hindered and now asks that God would open the way for him to go back to his beloved friends

Farrar,2022-03-03 The chief object has been to give a definite accurate and intelligible impression of St Paul s teaching of the situations in which he was engaged of the circumstances which educed his statements of doctrine and practice of the innermost heart of his theology in each of its phases of his Epistles as a whole and of each Epistle in particular as complete and perfect in itself Sometimes in our custom of studying the Bible year after year in different texts and isolated chapters we are but too apt to lose sight of what the Bible is as a whole and even of the special significance of its separate books
