An Introduction to European Intergovernmental Organizations Marc Cogen,2016-04-15 An Introduction to European Intergovernmental Organizations provides an up to date and accessible reference to European intergovernmental organizations other than the European Union The EU is so dominant that people often overlook the multitude of older and newer smaller and larger intergovernmental organizations rooted in the history of contemporary Europe which continue to help shape its future The specialized character of these organizations adds value to cooperation in Europe as a whole creates permanent channels of communication regardless of EU membership and allows the possibility for non European involvement through organizations such as the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development and NATO It also allows sub regional groups of states such as the Nordic countries or the Benelux countries to exist and express their own identity via their own organizations This book looks at the history of Non EU organizations their decision making characteristics membership policies legal powers actions and interactions with each other and the European Union A uniform scheme of analysis is used to make European intergovernmental organizations comparable and by studying them we gain a deeper understanding and insight into European affairs

Bazbauers,Susan Engel,2021-03-11 This book explores the evolution of the 30 functioning multilateral development banks

MDBs have their roots in the growing system of international finance and multilateral cooperation with the first recognisable MDB being proposed by Latin America in financial cooperation with the US in the late 1930s. That Inter American Bank did not eventuate but was a precursor to the World Bank being negotiated at Bretton Woods in 1944. Since then a complex network of regional, sub-regional and specialised development banks has progressively emerged across the globe including two significant recent entrants established by China and the BRICS. MDBs arrange loans, credits and guarantees for investment in member states generally with the stated aim of fostering economic growth. They operate in both the Global North and South though there are more MDBs focusing on emerging and developing states. While the World Bank and some of the larger regional banks have been scrutinised, little attention has been paid to the smaller banks or the overall system. This book provides the first study of all 30 MDBs and it evaluates their interrelationships. It analyses the emergence of the MDBs in relation to geopolitics, development paradigms and debt. It includes sections on each of the banks as well as on how MDBs have approached the key sectors of infrastructure, human development and climate. This book will be of particular interest to researchers of development finance, global governance and international political economy. The Report: Dubai 2013, 2013

Asian Firms Frank B. Tipton, 2008-01-01. This book appeals to a wide range of readers who might be interested in the historical development of Asian economies, evolutionary trajectories of Asian firms, institutional change and dynamics in Asia and management and organization of Asian firms. For readers who are interested in specific Asian economies, this book will also be useful because it provides a comparative perspective that examines different Asian economies and their forms in a single work. Henry Wai chung Yeung, National University of Singapore. Tipton provides a fresh approach to understand how Asian firms differ from their western counterparts. Paul Beamish, University of Western Ontario, Canada. Frank Tipton's book is a comparative study of the management structures of Asian firms. As Asian economies continue to expand, the management of Asian firms becomes ever more important, whether they are suppliers, customers, partners or rivals. As the author argues, Asian firms are very different from their Western counterparts and these differences reflect the variations in national history and institutions within which they operate. Asian Firms compares Chinese, Japanese, Korean and Southeast Asian management structures and sets them in their historical and institutional context. Based on a wide range of interviews and material drawn from a variety of disciplines, the argument is framed by the sayings of the legendary strategist Sun Tzu and the renowned businessman Tao Zhu gong. A series of case studies illustrate the strengths and weaknesses of the approaches of managers in each of the national traditions. Asian Firms asks in each case what Western managers can learn from Asian firms and what Asian firms can learn from each other. With a multidisciplinary approach and emphasis on practical lessons and tools, the book will be of great use and interest for managers. It will also appeal to students and researchers of international business, postgraduate management students in courses with a comparative or Asian emphasis as well as academics and researchers of Asian studies.
