Abstract

[illegible]

Blackburn's investigation found the British government and the members of the Red International of Labour Unions (RILU) government supporting committees opposed to the general Red flag strike at one point or the other of the three meetings, and that against the suggestions and requests for a general strike, the British government and the general Red flag strikers, other supporting members, or the committee on International Day were almost always opposed. The general strike would have been general only if the general Red flag strikers had been prepared to strike.

As a result, the government is spending more money on the health care system than it has in the past. The government is also spending more money on the health care system than it has in the past. The government is also spending more money on the health care system than it has in the past.
