PAUL NEWMAN AND DAYTONA

This section shows the success and popularity of vintage watch collecting as a whole without acknowledging the impact Paul Newman had on the world.

Starting from the middle of the 1960s, Rolex further expanded its luxury and international image with its so-called "movie" stars. These stars are immediately recognizable due to the fact that their names are listed in the exhibition catalogs. However, these stars have a different status: the more famous a person is, the more the watch is valued and the more the watch is valued.

Today, these stars have become icons and their names are used to promote Rolex watches—and watches with such stars are now commonly called "Paul Newman" Daytonas.

In fact, during the filming of Winning, Paul Newman left a hole in his suit and became a true icon. He was the first to wear a Rolex Daytona chronograph with a white dial and a black leather strap. This watch is now known as the "Paul Newman" Daytona.
