the volume focuses on the adaptation of source material by romantic writers and the adaptation in subsequent periods of the tropes and ideologies associated with romanticism In place of a hierarchical distinction between source and text between romanticism and its contexts the collection identifies distinct but overlapping and mutually constitutive genres such as the Gothic and romance Whether their essays deal with early nineteenth century periodical reviews affordable editions of Pride and Prejudice aimed at the late nineteenth century mass audience or the ongoing cultural presence of romanticism in late twentieth and early twenty first century debates about embryology and stem cell research the contributors remain cognizant of the tension between the processes of adaptation and the apparent ideology of romantic originality English Literature from the Restoration Through the Romantic Period J. Movement George Benjamin Woods, 1916 Polish Romantic Drama Harold B. Segel, 2014-04-08 This is the first volume in English to be devoted entirely to Polish Romantic drama. It contains translations of three major plays: Forefathers Eve Part III by Adam Mickiewicz, The Un-Divine Comedy by Zygmunt Krasiński, and Fantasy by Juliusz Słowacki. In his highly informative introduction, Professor Segel discusses the plays against the background of the Romantic movement in Poland and points out their ideological and artistic importance. As products of a revolutionary Poland, they were written and published in Paris by writers who either resettled there after the Insurrection of 1830 or otherwise identified with the Great Emigration; they are permeated with the spirit of Romantic Rebellion, with pleas for universal justice and with queries concerning the role of the poet in society. Brilliant productions of the plays in Poland in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries gave impetus to an entire tradition of modern Polish theatrical experimentation as well as dramatic writing which extends to the present day.
