Evans, 2012-01-12 In recent years debate on the state's economic role has too often devolved into diatribes against intervention Peter Evans questions such simplistic views offering a new vision of why state involvement works in some cases and produces disasters in others To illustrate he looks at how state agencies local entrepreneurs and transnational corporations shaped the emergence of computer industries in Brazil India and Korea during the seventies and eighties Evans starts with the idea that states vary in the way they are organized and tied to society In some nations like Zaire the state is predatory ruthlessly extracting and providing nothing of value in return In others like Korea it is developmental promoting industrial transformation In still others like Brazil and India it is in between sometimes helping sometimes hindering Evans's years of comparative research on the successes and failures of state involvement in the process of industrialization have here been crafted into a persuasive and entertaining work which demonstrates that successful state action requires an understanding of its own limits a realistic relationship to the global economy and the combination of coherent internal organization and close links to society that Evans called embedded autonomy HWM, 2005-03 Singapore's leading tech magazine gives its readers the power to decide with its informative articles and in depth reviews Harper's, 2010 The Crustacean Jang Jinyeong, 2025-09-04 The Crustacean isn't a novel it's an obsession I would kill and die for this book ALISSA NUTTING author of Tampa The year's most spiky and powerful novella When I was 13 I knew nothing about anything I only cared about love And the older man who I thought I fell in love with never told me he was divorced I made that up on my own Chichirim is a plain 13 year old girl An ordinary misunderstood lonely seventh grader A girl with a terrible secret Her dad is worse than useless And her mum spends all her days tattooing thick ugly eyebrows on old women Her parents forget her birthday and her sister hates them so much she wishes they were dead Chichirim does bad things at school And still no one cares Until one day an older man picks her up on the side of the road He tells her she is pretty Her tells her what to do Underneath her hard outer shell her softness is being exploited and destroyed by the people she trusts and loves the most I want to come back as a crab A crab's skin is made of bone and the flesh is inside the bone But we're the
