Handbook of the Geographies of Religion Lily Kong, Orlando Woods, Justin K.H. Tse, 2024-12-02 This international and interdisciplinary handbook offers a comprehensive and an in depth overview of contemporary research theory and practice in the geographies of religion in various parts of the world and with different populations The book showcases the major theoretical interventions in the field and the debates about the existential constitution of sacred space and what this means for secularization It outlines the most significant geographical themes related to these new developments with their implications for how to think about landscapes space bodies and worlds The book also discusses the future of the field especially in the realms of encounters and ethics economies and markets institutions and organisations movements and migrations and media and mediums It also offers views from disciplines outside of geography including from sociology anthropology religious studies and media and communications which demonstrates the contributions of geographers of religion to wider intellectual conversations and debates

Past Climate Variability through Europe and Africa Richard W. Battarbee, Françoise Gasse, Catherine E. Stickley, 2007-11-06 This book provides a major synthesis of evidence for past climate variability at the regional and continental scale across Europe and Africa It focuses on two complementary time scales the Holocene approximately the last 11 500 years and the last glacial interglacial cycle approximately the last 130 000 years An overview of the climate system of the past has never been attempted before on this scale and as such the volume represents a benchmark for future research It is written by an expert group of climate change scientists and presents an insight into past climate variability that challenges climatologists who seek to explain climate dynamics of the past and provides climate modellers with a work of reference for data model comparison The book is an advanced but very readable text essential for all students and scientists interested in global environmental change

Annual Report, 1992 Viking DNA Stephen Harding, Mark Jobling, Turi King, 2011-02-01 Focusing on men from old families in England's Wirral and West Lancashire regions this survey traces the DNA of the local populace back to their Viking ancestors in order to determine the impact of past societies on their genetic make up Arguing that the areas exhibit many archaeological and historical features proving them to have had a clear Viking presence this account provides background information on Viking settlements as well as conclusions drawn from the DNA testing An illustrated example of how DNA methods can be used to learn about the past is also included

The Geographical Magazine, 1987-07 Making Geography Matter Noel Castree, Trevor Barnes, Jennifer Salmond, 2025-02-28 What is the purpose of Geography What do geographers study and why How do they seek to shape the world they interrogate This book addresses these questions by examining the lives and works of individual geographers both past and present Like all disciplines Geography is no more nor less than the collective endeavours of researchers and teachers operating in specific contexts The contexts both shape and are shaped by these individuals This book's biographical and autobiographical chapters transport readers to the times and places where geographers have sought to make Geography matter The result is a more vivid grounded understanding of the discipline than the many high level surveys of geographic thought paradigms currently written for university students This book s accessible essays each conclude with a study task Making Geography Matter is aimed at university students and their teachers who wish to understand the goals history and evolving practice of Geography It provides an alternative perspective both concrete and engaging to the many student focussed texts that map out numerous isms and ologies ORIGINS & SPREAD AGRIC PAST HARRIS DAVID R,1996-04-17 The transitions from hunting and gathering to agriculture had revolutionary consequences for human society leading to the emergence of urban civilizations and ultimately to humanity s dependence on relatively few domesticated animals and plants Though the subject has been studied extensively results have typically been interpreted in terms of local cultural sequences By contrast The Origins and Spread of Agriculture and Pastoralism in Eurasia provides a continental scale framework for examining the agricultural revolution from its inception nearly 10 000 years ago Back cover
