

THIS SECTION PROVIDES STANDARD PROCEDURES for visual inspection of steel welds.

GENERAL

Although ASME B31.3 refers to inspection as verification that all required examinations and testing have been completed; henceforth, this manual refers to visual inspection of welds as the visual examination of welds defined by ASME 31.3. Both ASME 31.3 Paragraph 343 and 344 and ASME BPV Section V Article 9 are used as the basis for this procedure.

Visual inspection of welds will be performed by individual(s) qualified by training and experience commensurate with the needs of the specified examinations. The welding inspector (inspector) must:

- Be able to verify that welding is being performed in accordance with the construction specifications and the welding procedures (see Section 2.20: "Qualified Welding Procedure Specifications \(QWPS\)")
- Understand the specifications before arriving on the job site in order to be able to respond quickly and appropriately if the work or procedures are not being followed
- Be equipped with the proper inspection equipment to check and monitor the welding parameters listed in the welding procedure

All field welds are subject to visual inspection and/or non-destructive testing to:

- Verify weld integrity
- Provide for the correction of improper welding techniques when indicated by recurring defects
- Verify welder qualification in the production weld process

Records of individual visual inspections are not required; except for those of in-process examinations described in Section 3.02 "Non-Destructive Testing Requirements". The visual inspection report at the end of this procedure will be utilized for in-process welding inspection.

Qualified welders are responsible for the quality of their work. The Company will assign inspection personnel as necessary to verify contractor and Company weld quality and conformance to applicable procedures.

If upon visual inspection it is determined the weld may be defective, it must be repaired or removed from the piping system and re-examined by the same methods, to the same extent and by the same acceptance criteria as necessary to meet the requirements of the code. The inspection may be made before, during, or after the weld has been completed. The Company has the right to accept or reject any weld for any reason.

Army Ordnance Advisory Committee,1945 Handbook of Nondestructive Evaluation 4.0 Norbert Meyendorf,Nathan Ida,Ripudaman (Ripi) Singh,Johannes Vrana,2025-06-29 This handbook now as second edition continues to comprehensively cover the cutting edge trends and techniques essential for the integration of nondestructive evaluation NDE into the changing face of the modern industrial landscape In particular it delves into the marriage of NDE with new techniques in e g data mining and management cloud computing autonomous operation AI for data analysis and decision making as well as cyber security highlighting the potential for cyber physical controlled production and discussing the myriad possible applications across many different industries The Handbook of NDE 4 0 centers around the Industry 4.0 philosophy the next generation of industrial production encompassing all aspects of networking across all industrial areas. It discusses the adaptation of existing NDE techniques to emerging new technological areas such as 3D printing via the introduction of cyber systems into the inspection and maintenance processes. In addition, the handbook covers topics such as the management and processing of big data with respect to real time monitoring of structural integrity and reliable inspection of individual components. Remote NDE to include competence not available on site will be a potential technique to increase reliability of NDE inspections by integrating additional specialist inputs into the decision process by methods such as telepresence thereby better leveraging the scarce resources of senior inspectors into industrial inspections at multiple sites. The handbook also includes non technical topics of direct relevance to leadership management and adoption of this new philosophy. The handbook houses a wealth of essential information to help academics, industry professionals, regulatory bodies and entrepreneurs navigate through this burgeoning new field. The material in this handbook is presented with the intention of ultimately improving human safety through reliable inspections and dependable maintenance of critical infrastructure while also enhancing business value through reduced downtime, affordable maintenance and talent optimization. The content is positioned to inspire NDE professionals to think broadly in terms of their role as continuous value add rather than discrete decision support. This second edition contains many new chapters and half of all chapters were revised from the 1st edition based on the engagement of authors through global platforms such as the ICDNT Specialist International Group on NDE 4.0 and the International conference series on NDE 4.0.

Sterile Manufacturing Sam A. Hout, 2021-07-04. This book highlights key ideas and factors to coach and guide professionals involved in learning about Sterile Manufacturing and operational requirements. It covers regulations and guidelines instituted by the FDA, ISPE, EMA, MHRA and ICH, emphasizing good manufacturing practice and inspection requirements in the manufacturing of medicinal products. Additionally, this book provides the fundamentals of aseptic techniques, quality by design, risk assessment and management in support of sterile operations applications. It creates a link to the implementation of business practices in drug manufacturing and healthcare and forms a correlation between design strategies including a step by step process to ensure reliability, safety and efficacy of healthcare products for human and animal use. The book also provides a connection between drug production and regulated applications by offering a review of the basic elements of sterile processing and how to remain viable with solid strategic planning. The book is a concise reference for professionals and learners in the field of sterile operations that governs
