Shadow Work Craig Lambert, 2016-04-12 With the exception of sleep humans spend more of their lifetimes on work than any other activity. It is central to our economy, society, and the family. It underpins our finances and our sense of meaning in life. Given the overriding importance of work, we need to recognize a profound transformation in the nature of work that is significantly altering lives: the incoming tidal wave of shadow work. Shadow work includes all the unpaid tasks we do on behalf of businesses and organizations. It has slipped into our routines stealthily; most of us do not realize how much of it we are already doing even as we pump our own gas, scan and bag our own groceries, execute our own stock trades, and build our own unassembled furniture. But its presence is unmistakable, and its effects far-reaching. Fueled by the twin forces of technology and skyrocketing personnel costs, shadow work has taken a foothold in our society. Lambert terms its prevalence as middle-class serfdom and examines its sources in the invasion of robotics, the democratization of expertise, and new demands on individuals at all levels of society. The end result: A more personalized form of consumption, a great social leveling. Pedigrees don't help with shadow work, and the weakening of communities as robotics reduce daily human interaction. Shadow Work offers a field guide to this new phenomenon. It shines a light on these trends now so prevalent in our daily lives and more importantly offers valuable insight into how to counter their effects. It will be essential reading to anyone seeking to understand how their day got so full and how to deal with the ubiquitous shadow work that surrounds them. Keys to

Dictionary of Acronyms and Technical Abbreviations Jakob Vlietstra, 2012-12-06 My first encounter with acronyms took place when I was ten years old and growing up in an occupied country during the Second World War My father proudly announced one day that despite the ban imposed by the occupying administration he had managed to get a radio installed and could receive the BBC All acronyms used in this introduction are listed in this dictionary To me the meaning of BBC was that we would receive different information about the war than we got from the usual censored broadcasts There was of course the well known acronym associated with the NT but at that time I did not realize that it meant more than the postal service in those years a deteriorated service Gradually the daily use of acronyms grew Most of the newly acquired three and four letter abbreviations referred to organizations such as the broadcasting corporations in The Netherlands and Belgium and references to countries such as the USA USSR and UK When attending high school the HBS after the war my knowledge of acronyms grew slowly Even during the ten years I spent in the Dutch Merchant Marine the GHV the number of acronyms was limited to advanced equipment that eventually became known as RADAR LORAN and DECCA
