

SAP MANUAL TESTING IS UNDERSERVED

Since it's virtually impossible for a company to develop automation test scripts to cover every possible SAP business scenario, manual testing is heavily relied upon to ensure that all the needed functionality is covered. Yet manual testing is severely underserved in terms of tools that increase productivity, enforce processes, and provide control.

Performing manual tests requires an intimate understanding of the business processes to be tested, and so, it is typically the functional experts in IT or key business users (sometimes referred to as super users) that are tasked with performing manual testing. They do their best to test, report defects, report progress, and document test runs, on top of their other daily duties. This is all performed manually, with tools such as Word and Excel.

In organizations where a dedicated test manager is allocated to the SAP team, management of the testing cycle is performed by the test manager. In the majority of SAP shops, however, there isn't a dedicated test manager; the test manager's role is performed by project managers, in the scope of their respective projects, as an added duty.

Test management includes defining the testing strategy, identifying the tests to be performed, assigning tests to the manual testers, chasing the testers for their individual status reports and consolidating them to a "big-picture" testing progress and coverage status, managing defects, ensuring that testers perform the testing on time, and more! Approximately two thirds of SAP shops use general productivity software like spreadsheets in support of these test management activities. It is little surprise, therefore, that they lack visibility and control over the testing cycle, and put too much time and effort into managing the testing activities.

Specification Mining on the User Interface Level Fabian Richter,2020-10-20 Master's Thesis from the year 2012 in the subject Computer Science Software grade 1.0 Technical University of Darmstadt Secure Software Engineering Group language English abstract In this thesis we propose another approach targeted at web applications that use Ajax HTML5 and other modern web technologies to achieve a look and feel that is only known by desktop applications These web applications are also referred to as Rich Internet Application RIA The user interface is a part of an application the same way its business logic is This requires software engineers to test the user interface to verify its correctness to the same extent they test the rest of the application But testing graphical user interfaces is a tedious task without standardized testing technologies engineers use for business logic verification like unit testing To address this shortcoming research groups applied the concept of model based testing to user interface testing In model based testing an abstraction of the actual graphical user interface is used and test sequences are generated from the model The model as a formal specification can also be checked by a model checker or pose as a test oracle to validate the correctness of the application Ideally such a model or specification can be generated or mined by an automated process This process is usually referred to as specification mining and relieves the test engineer of the task to keep the specification up to date Many tools and approaches have been proposed to target different kinds of applications and properties that the mining tool infers At europe s biggest software company SAP where this thesis was manufactured many RIAsarebe ing developed based on a user interface library called SAPUI5 This library helps developers to create uniform looking RIAs To test their graphical user interface and ensure quality software our approach supports this testing process by using a web crawler known from search engines to automatically infer a specification or model from these interfaces We achieved this by modifying the Ajax capable crawler Crawljax by A Mesbah and using a new more efficient and modular state abstraction based on XPath expressions Our CrawljaxXT also addresses many bugs and shortcomings of the original Crawljax and thus allows for reliable creation of complete user interface models without overly detailed state abstractions Concluding we successfully evaluated our mined models and its testing capabilities with a modified version of the free model based testing tool Graphwalker
