Implementation of an Enterprise Resource Planning System with Focus on End-User Training Elke

Simon, 1999-11-24 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The implementation of an Enterprise Resource Planning ERP system refers to Information Systems Business Processes and People Basically it is a changing procedure in organizations that strive for company wide high performance Business Process Transformation is about changing a company's focus from products to customers Information Systems are replaced by a homogenous system environment which integrates all information into a common system The behaviour and skills of the company wide personnel are adapted to perform in the new world The big challenge of the implementation is to have the properly trained people for a high performance organization Unfortunately most companies do not recognize that need They underestimate the impact that the human factor has on an ERP approach they consider the implementation as a software installation with influence to the business But the implementation is much more complex This thesis is dedicated to all those persons who intend to implement an Enterprise Resource Planning system and who want to understand the theory of Business Process Transformation and how it is linked to Enterprise Resource Planning To emphasize the importance of the human factors within the implementation chapter 4 elaborates on End User Training as a significant part of an implementation for a company dedicated to becoming a high performance organization This paper also includes a case study of an ERP implementation at Mitel Corporation The case study presents information about the Company its ERP implementation and its approach to End User Training Inhaltsverzeichnis Table of Contents

The SAP Blue Book Michael Doane,1998 Handbook of Research on Enterprise Systems Gupta, Jatinder N. D.,Sharma, Sushil,Rashid, Mohammad A.,2009-01-31 Addresses the field of enterprise systems covering progressive technologies leading theories and advanced applications Modeling Software Markets Falk Graf Westarp,2012-12-06 As social beings humans are not living in isolation but rather interact and communicate within their social network via language meant to convey parts of some conceptualization from the sender to a single recipient or a set of recipients Communities of agents not only share a common language but also the individual conceptualizations of the world real and abstract have to overlap to a significant extent allowing for efficient reference to whole conceptual structures like the German constitution game theory or medical sciences For societies of interacting technical devices or software agents the situation is not quite as Babylonian since although these agents are meant to act individually and also have a private state and private knowledge in most cases they are designed to refer to one common ontology or standardized protocol and thus do not have to deal with misunderstanding However the more these systems become interconnected the more this situation resembles the one described for societies of human agents even though the misunderstanding might be easier to detect when the different reference ontologies are made explicit and published Obviously in both cases standardization of a common language or set of rules for interaction reduces the individual degree of freedom for the sake of compatibility and benefits derived from interaction In his work Falk Graf von Westarp addresses the software market as a domain strongly depending on compatibility effects of the individuals decisions Financial Management and Business Transformation at the Department of Defense United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Readiness and Management Support,2012 The Enterprise Resource Planning Decade ,2004-01-01 The Enterprise Resource Planning Decade Lessons Learned and Issues for the Future presents a collection of chapters written by various experts that share a interest in the ERP movement This collection will generate much interest and contribute to the development of Enterprise wide systems that provide true support to organizations and the development of methodologies that are less disruptive of organizational day to day business than is the case today When ERP projects stop being the make or break ventures they can be and we stop getting these negative reports about failed implementation the target will have been met and the ERP market will be less of a jungle than it is today The
