Validity in Educational and Psychological Assessment Paul Newton, Stuart Shaw, 2014-04-15 Validity is the hallmark of quality for educational and psychological measurement But what does quality mean in this context And to what exactly does the concept of validity apply These apparently innocuous questions parachute the unwary inquirer into a minefield of tricky ideas This book guides you through this minefield investigating how the concept of validity has evolved from the nineteenth century to the present day Communicating complicated concepts straightforwardly the authors answer questions like What does validity mean What does it mean to validate How many different kinds of validity are there When does validation begin and end Is reliability a part of validity or distinct from it This book will be of interest to anyone with a professional or academic interest in evaluating the quality of educational or psychological assessments measurements and diagnoses

The Truth About Our Schools Melissa Benn, Janet Downs, 2015-11-06 A superb crucial blistering expose of all the myths about our education system that are all too often used to attack it Melissa Benn again proves why she is one of country's most formidable education campaigners and why the powerful should fear her Owen Jones Guardian columnist and best selling author Never has it been more urgent to publicise the truth about what works and doesn't work in our education system Debunking the ideology of marketisation and exposing the half truths that pass for objective reporting Benn and Downs meticulously lay out the evidence that a national system of comprehensive schools delivers the best outcomes This hugely important book should be required reading for each new Education Secretary Caroline Lucas MP Opinions about comprehensive education are often made into easy to swallow sound bites by media and politicians alike and whilst the benefits of a genuinely comprehensive education for all pupils are obvious untruths have unwittingly evolved into hard facts Based on Melissa Benn and Janet Downs work as part of the pioneering Local Schools Network The Truth About Our Schools calls for us to urgently and articulately challenge unquestioned myths about state education Benn and Downs have meticulously built an argument for its still enormously vital role and rigorously challenge assumptions that Comprehensive education has failed Local authorities control and hold back schools Choice competition and markets are the route to educational success Choice will improve education in England the free school model Academies raise standards Teachers don't need qualifications Private schools have the magic DNA Progressive education lowers standards Anyone who thinks that comprehensive education cannot deliver that local authorities are the chief block to improving our school system that competition and markets are the route to educational success and that private schools hold the magic DNA that can simply be transferred to other state schools will have their beliefs shaken by this blisteringly incisive book Computational Models of Argument S. Modgil, K. Budzynska, J. Lawrence, 2018-09-06 In its classical form the study of argumentation focuses on human oriented uses of argument such as whether an argument is legitimate or flawed engagement in debate or the rhetorical aspects of argumentation In recent decades however the study of logic and computational models of argumentation has emerged as a growing sub area of AI This book presents the Seventh International Conference on Computational Models of Argument COMMA 18 held in Warsaw Poland from 12 to 14 September 2018 Since its inception in 2006 the conference and its related activities have developed alongside the steady growth of interest in computational argumentation worldwide and the selection of 25 full papers and 17 short papers out of a total of 70 submissions and 15 demonstration abstracts included here reflect the broad multidisciplinary nature of argumentation and the increasing body of work which establishes the relevance of computational models to various disciplines and real world applications Subjects covered include algorithm development innovative applications argument mining argumentation based models of dialogue abstract argument frameworks and structured argumentation Representing an overview of current developments in the field this book will appeal to all those with an interest in computational models of argument Routledge Handbook of the Sociology of Higher Education James E. Côté, Sarah Pickard, 2022-03-21 Higher education has come under increasing public scrutiny in recent years assailed with demands for greater efficiency accountability cost reduction and above all job training Drawing upon examples from across the world with an emphasis on Anglo American higher education systems this handbook employs sociological approaches to address these pressing concerns The second edition is thoroughly updated and adds several new chapters to shed further light on the transformations wrought by the interrelated processes of massification vocationalization and marketization that have swept through universities in the wake of neoliberal reforms introduced by governments since the 1980s The handbook explores recent developments in higher education systems and policy as well as the everyday experiences of students and staff and ongoing problems of inequality and diversity within universities In doing so the chapters address a number of current issues concerning the legitimacy of higher educational credentials from the continuing debate regarding traditional pedagogies and the role of universities in social class reproduction to more recent concerns about standards in mass systems Collectively this handbook demonstrates that the sociology of higher education has the potential to play a leadership role in improving the myriad higher education systems around the world that are now part of an interrelated set of subsystems replete with both persistent problems and promising prospects This book is therefore necessary reading for a variety of stakeholders within academia as well as professionals and policy makers interested in understanding higher education and the acute challenges it faces The Qualified Student Harold S. Wechsler, 2017-09-29 In The Qualified Student Harold S Wechsler focuses on methods of student selection used by institutions of higher education in the United States More specifically he discusses the way that college and university reformers employed those methods to introduce higher education into a broader cross section of America by extending access to an increased number of students from nontraditional backgrounds Implicit in much of this book is an underlying social and ethical question How legitimate was and is higher education s regulation of social mobility Public concern over colleges and universities practices became inevitable once they became regulators between social classes The challenging of colleges admissions policies in the courts augments similar concerns that have been present in legislatures for decades The volume is divided into three main sections Prerequisites Columbia and the Selective Function and Implications It focuses mainly on four universities The University of Michigan Columbia University the University of Chicago and the City University of New York Wechsler maintains that unlike other universities these institutions were pacesetters they did not adopt a new policy simply because some other college had already adopted it A new introduction brings the book originally published in 1977 up to date and demonstrates its continuing importance in today s academic world of selective admissions Principles and Practice of Constraint Programming Barry O'Sullivan,2014-08-13 This book constitutes the refereed conference proceedings of the 20th International Conference on Principles and Practice of Constraint Programming CP 2014 held in Lyon France in September 2014 The 65 revised papers presented together with 4 invited talks were carefully selected from 108 submissions The scope of CP 2014 includes all aspects of computing with constraints including theory algorithms environments languages models systems and applications such as decision making resource allocation and agreement technologies Who Gets In? Rebecca Zwick,2017-05-15 On the disputed topic of U S college admissions everyone agrees that this high stakes competition is unfair But few agree on what a fair process would be Stressing transparency in evaluating applicants Rebecca Zwick assesses the goals and criteria of different admissions policies and shows how they can fail to produce the desired results
