Archimedes Ptolemy Seneca Pliny the Elder and Galen Technology: A World History Daniel R. Headrick, 2009-04-01 Today technology has created a world of dazzling progress growing disparities of wealth and poverty and looming threats to the environment Technology A World History offers an illuminating backdrop to our present moment a brilliant history of invention around the globe Historian Daniel R Headrick ranges from the Stone Age and the beginnings of agriculture to the Industrial Revolution and the electronic revolution of the recent past In tracing the growing power of humans over nature through increasingly powerful innovations he compares the evolution of technology in different parts of the world providing a much broader account than is found in other histories of technology We also discover how small changes sometimes have dramatic results how for instance the stirrup revolutionized war and gave the Mongols a deadly advantage over the Chinese

And how the nailed horseshoe was a pivotal breakthrough for western farmers Enlivened with many illustrations Technology offers a fascinating look at the spread of inventions around the world both as boons for humanity and as weapons of destruction World History in the Making Albert Edward McKinley,Arthur Charles Howland,Matthew Lincoln Dann,1927

Austen, 2010 This book tells the story of an African world that grew out of more than one thousand years of trans Saharan trade linking the Mediterranean lands of North Africa with the internal Sudanic grasslands stretching from the Nile River to the Atlantic Ocean It traces the early role of the Sahara the globe's largest desert as a divider that separated these two regions into very different worlds During the heyday of camel caravan traffic from the eighth century CE Arab invasions of North Africa to the early twentieth century building of European colonial railroads that linked the Sudan with the Atlantic the Sahara became one of the world's great commercial highways The most enduring impact of this trade and the common cultural reference point of trans Saharan Africa was Islam This faith played various roles throughout the region as a legal system for regulating trade an inspiration for reformist religious political movements and a vehicle of literacy and cosmopolitan knowledge that inspired creativity often of a very unorthodox kind within the various ethno linguistic communities of the region From the mid 1400s European voyages to the coast of West and Central Africa provided an alternative international trade route that marginalized trans Saharan commerce in global terms but stimulated its accelerated local growth Inland territorial conquest by France and Britain in the 1800s and early 1900s brought more serious disruptions Trans Saharan culture however not only adapted to these colonial and postcolonial changes but often thrived upon them to remain a living force well into the twenty first century Provided by publisher
