The World at War, 1939-1944 United States. War Department. General Staff, 1945

The World at War Ralph Raico, 2024-12-06 For classical liberals and libertarians there is no issue more important than war In the nineteenth century the English Manchester School and the French Laissez Faire School taught humanity that free trade at home and abroad is the surest way to eliminate war Ralph Raico s lecture The World at War is a masterful yet tragic case study on this existential point With unrivaled scope and wit Raico shows how government intervention in the free market economy leads to war He illustrates that modern wars make everyone worse off the victors as well as the losers The chief lesson of this masterpiece is that the free market economy at home and abroad is the key to abolishing war and maintaining durable world peace Recorded in 1983 Ralph Raico s lecture The World at War remains perhaps the best introduction to the classical liberal interpretation of the two world wars of the twentieth century Raico touched on many of the topics he discussed in this lecture in his other writings but he never wove them all together as concisely as he does here Raico s interpretation and insights into the causes of perpetual war are much needed today in light of the war hungry interventionist politicians that keep the economy on a warfare footing for their own political gain Raico was tutored by Ludwig von Mises Friedrich Hayek and Murray Rothbard All were economists and mentors of sorts giving Raico his unique understanding of what causes war Raico was the embodiment of Mises s master historian whose interpretation of the past is rooted in sound economic theory

An Imperial World at War Ashley Jackson, Yasmin Khan, Gajendra Singh, 2016-07-01 At the start of the Second World War Britain was at the height of its imperial power and it is no surprise that it drew upon the global resources of the Empire once war had been declared Whilst this international aspect of Britain s war effort has been well studied in relation to the military contribution of individual dominions and colonies relatively little has been written about the Empire as a whole As such An Imperial World at War makes an important contribution to the historiography relating to the British Empire and its wartime experience It argues that the war needs to be viewed in imperial terms that the role of forces drawn from the Empire is poorly understood and that the war s impact on colonial societies is barely grasped at all in conventional accounts Through a series of case studies the volume demonstrates the fundamental role played by the Empire in Britain s war effort and highlights some of the consequences for both Britain and its imperial territories Themes include the recruitment and utilization of military formations drawn from imperial territories the experience of British forces stationed overseas the use of strategic bases located in the colonies British policy in the Middle East and the challenge posed by growing American power the occupation of enemy colonies and the enemy occupation of British colonies colonial civil defence measures financial support for the war effort supplied by the Empire and the commemoration of the war The Afterword anticipates a new decentred history of the war that properly acknowledges the role and importance of people and places throughout the colonial and semi colonial world This volume emanates from a conference organized as part of the Home Fronts of the Empire Commonwealth project The project was generously funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council and led by Yasmin Khan and Ashley Jackson with Gajendra Singh as Postdoctoral Research Assistant

American Women in a World at War Judy Barrett Litoff, David Clayton Smith, 1997 This title brings together twenty five writings by women who share their rich and varied World War II experiences from serving in the military to working on the home front to preparing for the postwar world By providing evidence of their active and resourceful roles in the war effort as workers wives and mothers these women offer eloquent testimony that World War II was indeed everybody s war Litoff and Smith combine pieces by well known writers such as Margaret Culkin Banning and Nancy Wilson Ross with important but largely forgotten personal accounts by ordinary women living in extraordinary times This volume is divided into the six sections listed below

The World at War Gideon Rose, 2016-11-14 Foreign Affairs and its parent organization the Council on Foreign Relations were founded in the early 1920s by veterans of the Woodrow Wilson administration s diplomatic and military efforts Shocked by the country s turn to isolationism in the wake of the Great War they followed with increasing dread the world s march toward yet another conflict during the 1930s The pages of the magazine tracked the rise of Adolf Hitler and the Nazis the growing conquests of imperial Japan the stirrings of military preparedness in Washington and ultimately the most devastating conflagration the globe has ever seen Seventy five years after the United States entered that war we offer this collection to showcase all that remarkable coverage giving today's readers a taste of how things looked to knowledgeable observers watching events in real time

The World at War Taylor Downing, 2012-11-19 The World at War is the most successful history series ever produced by British television TV producer and writer Taylor Downing explores the style ethos television context and impact of the programme in a study that includes interviews with the producer Jeremy Isaacs and original research gathered from archives

The World at War, 1914-1945 Jeremy Black, 2019-04-03 This text provides an innovative global military history that joins three periods World War I the interwar years and World War II Jeremy Black offers a comprehensive survey of both wars comparing continuities and differences He traces the causes of each war and assesses land sea and air warfare as separate dimensions He argues that the unprecedented nature of the two wars owed much to the demographic and industrial strength of the states involved and their ability and determination to mobilize vast resources Yet the demands of the world wars also posed major difficulties not simply in sustaining the struggle but also in conceiving of practical strategies and operational methods in the heat and competition of ever evolving conflict In this process resources skills leadership morale and alliance cohesion all proved significant In addition to his military focus Black considers other key dimensions of the conflicts especially political and social influences and impacts He thoroughly integrates the interwar years tracing the significant continuities between the two world wars He emphasizes how essential American financial industrial agricultural and energy resources were to the Allies both before and after the United States entered each war Bringing the two world wars to life Black sheds light not only on both as individual conflicts but also on the interwoven relationships between the two

A World at War, 1911-1949 , 2019-03-27 In A World At War 1911 1949 leading and emerging scholars of the cultural history of the two world wars begin to break down the traditional barriers between the historiographies of the two conflicts identifying commonalities as well as casting new light on each as part of a broader mission in honour of Professor John Horne to expand the boundaries of academic exploration of warfare in the 20th century Utilizing techniques and approaches developed by cultural historians of the First World War this volume showcases and explores four crucial themes relating to the socio cultural attributes and representation of war that cut across both the First and Second World Wars cultural mobilization the nature and depiction of combat the experience of civilians under fire and the different meanings of victory and defeat Contributors are Annette Becker Robert Dale Alex Dowdall Robert Gerwarth John Horne Tom's Irish Heather Jones Alan Kramer Edward Madigan Anthony McElligott Michael S Neiberg John Paul Newman Catriona Pennell Filipe Ribeiro de Meneses Daniel Todman and Jay Winter See inside the book All the World at War James Charles Roy, 2024-05-31 While battles and wars and the clash of civilizations are as old as time itself there is little doubt that the conflagration of 1914 1918 was something unique and terrifyingly new There was not a corner of the globe that did not feel its effects some more than others but the scope of its impact on economies populations food supplies the character of governments in general and the day to day lives of numberless ordinary people were such as the world had never experienced nor expected Little did anyone dream that the assassination of relatively minor figures of the Habsburg royal family Archduke Ferdinand of Austria and his wife carried out by an unknown Serbian teenager on the street corner of an obscure town called Sarajevo that few had ever heard of could possibly provide a spark that would plunge the entire European continent into an industrialized war of catastrophic destruction But it did the two shots that youth fired were surely heard around the world and several million people would perish or be maimed as a result The story of World War I has been told by many different writers historians and participants in many different ways especially so before and during the centennial of its events that just concluded All the World at War stands apart from many of these standard studies It presents a familiar story from points of view that many readers might find surprising unexpected details different perspectives atypical and generally insightful observations from contemporaries often obscure to modern readers who witnessed the events and personalities that pushed the war along from phase to phase The narrative is chronologically arranged beautifully written with something new or intriguing on every page This is a unique and finely paced account of The War to End all Wars that didn't

We Are at War Book 5 Vitalis Chi Nwaneri, 2012-11-14 OUR MISSION Over the past century the world has been witnessing a gradual decline in the state of global peace At a recent conference of World Religious Leaders in Assisi on the invitation of Pope Benedict XVI These Leaders expressed the concern that the declining state of world peace is partly fueled by growing religious crises like terrorism across the globe Accordingly it was resolved that global religious leaders should strive to contribute to the recovery in global peace Pope Benedict followed up the resolution with his establishment of the Pontifical Council on the New Evangelization PCNE to stem the growing Dechristianization in most advanced countries and enhance the effectiveness of the weapon of Evangelization as a means of contributing to Global Peace and Religious Freedom The Pope called on all the Lay Members of The Catholic Church to rise up and contribute to the mission of the PCNE Our Mission is a humble response to the Popes call In Book 1 the Author surveyed the teaching and history of the Church through a military perspective He concluded that WE ARE AT WAR WITH SATAN the only enemy of God and Man That war started from the Garden of Eden after mans creation It has been going on ever since Author therefore reminds the world that its wars and crises from the family to the global levels are rooted in this war against Satan fighting us as it did to Adam and Eve to commit sins by disobeying Gods Commandments Through our disobedience and sins we bring as Adam did wars and crises from our families to the global levels Accordingly the Author concludes that we cannot avoid sins if we do not understand the Teaching of Christ Our Only Leader and recognize the voice language and strategies of His enemy Satan in tempting us to sin The Author views the teaching of Christ as the Pillars that sustain our lives and modern governance against the attacks of the enemy He therefore warns that driving God out of our private and public lives can only move us faster on the path to wars crises and declining global peace He therefore provides in these Books his views on how to avoid sins by recognizing the ways that the enemy Satan lures us to sin Through such recognition we can learn how to avoid its temptations In the world of today most sins arise from our denial or lack of knowledge of these sins at all levels of our activities and lives The principle of the Separation of State and Religion is being misinterpreted to mean denying sins in our political economic and social lives In Books 2 and 3 the Author continues his surveys of the enemys strategies to cause wars between Christianity and Secularity and shows how the two can cooperate to fight back and reduce our wars and enhance global peace In Book 4 he shows how the enemy uses us in our various professions to be its agents to cause wars that lead to a decline in peace from our family to the global levels Finally in Book 5 he surveys the on going Warfront against our Religious Freedom to obey Gods Commandments in all our Religious and Secular activities He concludes with strong Recommendations on building the Knights of The Cross Mission of warriors from our Grass root parish levels of the church to the global level

Sunday Times history of how books were used in war across the twentieth century both as weapons and as agents for peace. We tend not to talk about books and war in the same breath, one ranks among humanity's greatest inventions, the other among its most terrible. But as esteemed literary historian Andrew Pettegree demonstrates, the two are deeply intertwined. The Book at War explores the various roles that books have played in conflicts throughout the globe. Winston Churchill used a travel guide to plan the invasion of Norway; lonely families turned to libraries while their loved ones were fighting in the trenches; and during the Cold War, both sides used books to spread their visions of how the world should be run. As solace or instruction manual, as critique or propaganda, books have shaped modern military history for both good and ill. With precise historical analysis and sparkling prose, The Book at War accounts for the power and the ambivalence of words at war.

Archangel World at War! Henrie Asconir, 2024-09-05. During a time when the world was still developing, a mysterious event occurred that was hard to explain. In a place in America, a baby girl was born who possessed the characteristics of an angel. Exactly one year later, her sister was born, possessing the characteristics of a demon. For God so loved us that they knew everything, the past and present, including the incoming greatest conflict in human history, which Lucifer will use a person to sow Great Evil several years before this happens. The God Almighty has created someone who will balance the fierce war that will happen in the future. The main characters are Angela, the angelic girl, and Lucia, the demonic girl. The beginning of the story also shows the origins of goodness and evil. The sisters shared a deep love for each other in the early stages of their lives, along with their mother, in all their dreams, contrary to their father. It also narrates how we are shaped and influenced by those around us. Angela and her companions, called the Astamina, tirelessly did everything they could to uphold peace against conflicts during World War II. Lucia also made friends, known as Arisilia. Eventually, she became completely evil. The sisters possessed extraordinary powers, and their abilities became almost like those of a real angel and demon. At the story's conclusion, a Japanese officer named Col. Junko, a serious and strict officer of the Japanese Imperial Army, plays the most important role in history, leading towards ultimate peace.
