The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson,2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Directory of Distance Learning Opportunities Modoc Press, Inc.,2003-02-28 This book provides an overview of current K 12 courses and programs offered in the United States as correspondence study or via such electronic delivery systems as satellite cable or the Internet The Directory includes over 6 000 courses offered by 154 institutions or distance learning consortium members Following an introduction that describes existing practices and delivery methods the Directory offers three indexes Subject Index of Courses Offered by Level Course Level Index Geographic Index All information was supplied by the institutions Entries include current contact information a description of the institution and the courses offered grade level and admission information tuition and fee information enrollment periods delivery information equipment requirements credit and grading information library services and accreditation Teaching Social Studies to Multilingual Learners in High School Mark Newman,Xiaoning Chen,2021-11-15 Teaching Social Studies to Multilingual Learners in High School Connecting Inquiry and Visual Literacy to Promote Progressive Learning explores effective strategies for teaching social studies to diverse learners The centerpiece is a visual literacy framework that integrates inquiry primary source analysis and visual literacy to provide a progressive learning sequence to meet the varied needs of learners The visual literacy framework brings together related aspects of progressive sequential learning into a cohesive whole It has an adaptable structure that allows teachers to customize learning activities to meet individual student needs The progressive learning sequence has varied modes of learning that help teachers move students from basic to proficient to advanced levels of support The book is organized into two related parts The first three chapters provide important content and context on social studies multilingual learner education and the visual literacy framework The remaining chapters discuss civics U S history world history geography and economics and social sciences Each chapter defines the subject area briefly traces its development as a high school subject over time and then offers classroom exercises for using the visual literacy framework in these disciplines The exercises are plotted so that differing levels of the visual literacy framework are explored throughout the book Seeing with the Eyes of the Heart Elizabeth T. Groppe,2020-07-03 In an era in which the internet has made pornography readily accessible Seeing with the Eyes of the Heart offers a theological critique of pornography and retrieves from the Christian tradition an alternative visual culture This visual culture is constituted by both the character of the images we behold and the manner in which we see Contributors include psychologists William M Struthers and Jill Manning who address the neurological effects of pornography and its influences on personal familial and social life Their professional analysis is complemented by the testimony of a young man in recovery from pornography addiction In an exposition of Christian visual culture Orthodox iconographer Randi Sider Rose describes the spiritual discipline of icon writing Danielle M Peters S T D surveys the iconography and art of Marian traditions and art historian Dianne Phillips elucidates the meaning of divine desire as evident in Catholic visual culture of the late medieval and early modern periods Catholic theologians Ann W Astell Nathaniel Peters Boyd Taylor Coolman and Nicolas Ogle discuss specific practices and dimensions of the Catholic tradition that can contribute to the cultivation of sacramental vision and David W Fagerberg Kimberly Hope Belcher Jennifer Newsome Martin and John C Cavadini offer reflections on sacramental imagination and the healing of vision Seeing with the Eyes of the Heart is a work of scholarship composed with pastoral care and concern and it will be serviceable to both classroom teachers and pastoral ministers A special feature of the book is an inset of seventy two full color plates featuring both classic and contemporary works of Christian iconography and art The essays and images invite readers to behold in beauty the truth that we are created by the triune God not for sexual objectification but with a sacramental vocation to deification through Christ and the Holy Spirit of love
