White Supremacy, Settler Colonialism, Modernist Architecture, and Contemporary

Preservation Robert Flahive, 2025-06-27 This book examines the afterlives of the built environment produced through early 20th century settler colonialism. The author analyzes contemporary architectural preservationists' narrative strategies to remake what were designed as racialized European zones in opposition to Indigenous zones as white cities through the documentation, preservation, and addition to the UNESCO World Heritage List. This book interrogates the fashioning of white cities through ethnographic methods with local architectural preservationists and primary sources such as World Heritage Committee meeting notes and World Heritage List nomination files and inscription materials in the preservation of built form in Asmara, Brasília, Casablanca, Rabat, and Tel Aviv. The book is aimed at scholars and students interested in the politics of the built environment, spatial politics, urban studies, architectural history, international relations, urban geopolitics, settler colonialism, international organizations, and the politics of commemoration.

World Architecture and Society

Peter Louis Bonfitto, 2021-12-06 This two-volume encyclopedia covers buildings and sites of global significance from prehistoric times to the present day, providing students with an essential understanding of architectural development and its impact on human societies. This two-volume encyclopedia provides an in-depth look at buildings and sites of global significance throughout history. The volumes are separated into four regional sections: 1. the Americas, 2. Europe, 3. Africa and the Middle East, and 4. Asia and the Pacific. Four regional essays investigate the broader stylistic and historical contexts that describe the development of architecture through time and across the globe. Entries explore the unique importance of buildings and sites, including the megalithic wonder of Stonehenge and the imposing complex of Angkor Wat. Entries on Spanish colonial missions in the Americas and the medieval Islamic universities of the Sahara connect to broader building traditions. Other entries highlight remarkable stories of architectural achievement and memory, like those of Tuskegee University, a site hand-built by former slaves, or the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park, which was built at the site of the atomic detonation. Each entry focuses on the architectural but includes strong consideration of the social impact, importance, and significance each structure has had in the past and in the present.

Spatial Theories for the Americas

Fernando Luiz Lara, 2024-11-19 To study the built environment of the Americas is to wrestle with an inherent contradiction While the disciplines of architecture urban design landscape and planning share the fundamental belief that space and place matter the overwhelming majority of canonical knowledge and the vernacular used to describe these disciplines comes from another very different continent With this book Fernando Luiz Lara discusses several theories of space drawing on cartography geography anthropology and mostly architecture and proposes counterweights to five centuries of Eurocentrism The first part of Spatial Theories for the Americas offers a critique of Eurocentrism in the discipline of architecture problematizing its theoretical foundation in relation to the inseparability of modernization and colonization The second part makes explicit the insufficiencies of a hegemonic Western tradition at the core of spatial theories by discussing a long list of authors who have thought about the Americas To overcome centuries of Eurocentrism Lara concludes will require a tremendous effort but nonetheless we have the responsibility of looking at the built environment of the Americas through our own lenses Spatial Theories for the Americas proposes a fundamental step in that direction
