Authoritarian Modernization in Russia Vladimir Gel'man, 2016-08-12 Post Communist Russia is an instance of the phenomenon of authoritarian modernization project which is perceived as a set of policies intended to achieve a high level of economic development while political freedoms remain beyond the current modernization agenda or are postponed to a distant future Why did Russia unlike many countries of post Communist Europe pursue authoritarian modernization after the Soviet collapse What is the ideational agenda behind this project and why does it dominate Russia s post Communist political landscape What are the mechanisms of political governance which maintain this project and how have they adopted and absorbed various democratic institutions and practices Why has this project brought such diverse results in various policy arenas and why have the consequences of certain policies become so controversial Why despite so many controversies shortcomings and flaws has this project remained attractive in the eyes of a large proportion of the Russian elite and ordinary citizens This volume intended to place some of these questions on the research agenda and propose several answers encouraging further discussions about the logic and mechanisms of the authoritarian modernization project in post Communist Russia and its effects on Russia s politics economy and society

Quintessential Cities, Accountable to the Future Voula Mega,2013-05-29 This book can be seen as the third part of an unofficial trilogy on Sustainable Cities of the Future with the author s previous books Sustainable Development Energy and the City and Sustainable Cities for the third millennium The Odyssey of urban excellence both prefaced by Prof Sir Peter Hall All three books follow the evolving forefront of innovations towards Sustainable Cities They collectively try to respond to the questions What future cities wish to build with their scarcities and capacities on a finite planet What do they do to achieve this How do they contribute to redesign the world The third book adopts first and foremost a strategic foresight approach including a scan of the future trends tensions and risks in a more uncertain world the possible and preferable futures emerging policy issues such as intergenerational cities or cities welcoming the immigrants and their impact on sustainable development the Rio 20 prospects and the effects of the protracted crisis efforts by world interconnected cities including a case study on Bangkok a laboratory of urban change and examples of frugal and resilient urban policies The Handbook of Global Companies John Mikler,2013-03-25 The Handbook of Global Companies brings together original research addressing the latest theories and empirical analysis surrounding the role of global companies in local national and international governance Offers new insights into the role of global companies in relation to policy and governance at local national and international levels Brings together newly commissioned research by a global team of established and up and coming scholars from the fields of international relations political science public policy and beyond Considers the environmental and societal responsibilities of global corporations Covers topics including the spatial locations of global companies debate about the power they wield and their role as catalysts in new forms of governance and the ways in which global companies share authority with the state and international organizations to drive policy processes Speculates on the broader potential and limitations of global governance Routledge Handbook of Global Citizenship Studies Engin Isin,Peter

Nyers,2014-06-27 Citizenship studies is at a crucial moment of globalizing as a field What used to be mainly a European North American and Australian field has now expanded to major contributions featuring scholarship from Latin America Asia Africa and the Middle East The Routledge Handbook of Global Citizenship Studies takes into account this globalizing moment At the same time it considers how the global perspective exposes the strains and discords in the concept of citizenship as it is understood today With over fifty contributions from international interdisciplinary experts the Handbook features state of the art analyses of the practices and enactments of citizenship across broad continental regions Africas Americas Asias and Europes as well as deterritorialized forms of citizenship Diasporicity and Indigeneity Through these analyses the Handbook provides a deeper understanding of citizenship in both empirical and theoretical terms This volume sets a new agenda for scholarly investigations of citizenship Its wide ranging contributions and clear accessible style make it essential reading for students and scholars working on citizenship issues across the humanities and social sciences The Political Economy of Intra-BRICS Cooperation Siphamandla Zondi,2022-07-07 This book uses the idea of internal cohesion through intra BRICS cooperation to make the argument that the next phase in the evolution of BRICS is to strengthen cooperation among BRICS countries in the implementation of decisions taken There is a risk that what the BRICS promises and what it represents both in the eyes of its friends and foes might not materialise in the absence of central institutions So the book calls for the deepening intra BRICS cooperation across all policy areas where there are already undertakings could help mitigate this risk

Corporate Governance Thomas Clarke,2021-02-11 The recognition of the profound impact of corporations on the economies and societies of all countries of the world has focused attention on the growing importance of corporate governance There is an ongoing diversity of corporate governance systems based on historical cultural and institutional differences that involve different approaches to the values and objectives of business activity Sound corporate governance is universally recognised as essential to market integrity and efficiency providing a vital underpinning for financial stability and economic growth As the adequacy of the existing dominant paradigms of corporate governance are increasingly challenged the search for coherent new paradigms is a vital task for corporate governance in the future Corporate Responsibility Coalitions David Grayson,Nelson Jane,2017-09-08 The significance of business led corporate responsibility coalitions is indisputable The WBCSD has 200 member companies with combined annual revenues of US 7 _trillion_ the UN Global Compact has almost 8 000 corporate members over two thirds of them from developing countries It is estimated that there are more than 110 national and international generalist business led CR coalitions But there is now urgent need for informed and balanced analysis of their achievements their progress and their potential Why did these coalitions start and grow What have been their impacts Where are they heading now Where should they be going What is the future In a period of austerity the business and public sector must decide whether funding these coalitions is a priority To meet current crises there will have to be a great deal more business involvement but efforts of individual corporations will not be sufficient There is also a need for far more collective action among companies and more collaborative action between different sectors of society Business led CR coalitions with their decades of convening experience could play an important role in this process if they are fit for purpose going forward Authors David Grayson and Jane Nelson have been actively involved in such coalitions for decades In Corporate Responsibility Coalitions they first explore the past present and future of these coalitions the emergence of new models of collective corporate action over the past four decades the current state of play and the increasing number diversity and complexity in terms of how they not only network with each other but also engage in a much broader universe of institutions that are promoting responsible business practices In addition the book provides in depth profiles of the most strategic effective and long standing coalitions including Business for Social Responsibility Business in the Community CSR Europe Instituto Ethos International Business Leaders Forum the UN Global Compact and the WBCSD This book will be required reading for key supporters and potential partners of such coalitions in companies governments international development agencies foundations non governmental organizations academic institutions and think tanks It also aims to inspire a future generation of leaders to be more aware of the role of business as a partner in driving more inclusive green and responsible growth and to help them develop new types of leadership skills so that they can be effective in finding multi stakeholder solutions to complex and systemic challenges

February 10-12, 2011 and attracted more than 900 attendees. Conference activities included 12 plenary sessions, 15 parallel sessions, 14 side events, an ongoing knowledge fair with more than 25 exhibit booths and tables, six informal discussion groups, and roughly 30 rapid fire presentations during coffee breaks. Assessing the impact of this Conference is a task complicated by multiple issues such as assessment coverage and impact attribution. The assessment methods used here include surveys of conferees, Internet searches, website and literature searches, and extensive personal interviews. Distinctions are drawn between short-term and medium-term impacts, and also among impacts on individuals, on institutions, and on professional discourse. Impacts on individual conferees were measured through pre- and post-Conference surveys and telephone interviews. The impacts on the substantive views of those who attended the Conference were found to be small. Most conferees (75 percent) came to Delhi already convinced that a cross-sector approach to agriculture, nutrition, and health (ANH) was appropriate. At the individual level, the Conference impacted motivation and empowerment more than beliefs. The Conference gave those who attended new information, new networking opportunities, and various positioning advantages that made them more effective within their own institutions back home. Such advantages were primarily important in the short-term. Regarding impacts on institutions, the 2010 Conference produced important but mixed results. Direct impacts on national governments were small, in part because ministerial structures and bureaucratic routines in governments are traditionally segregated by sector and resistant to anything more than incremental change. Direct impacts from the 2010 Conference on private companies and NGOs were also modest, but for a different reason: these institutions are inherently comfortable working across sectors, so most of the private companies and NGOs participating in the Conference felt little need to change. The strongest institutional impacts from the Conference came within a category of organizations that wanted to integrate nutrition with agriculture but were unsure of how or how quickly to move forward. These institutions included the CGIAR itself as it moved to create the CGIAR Research Program on Agriculture for Nutrition and Health (CRP4), the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) as it responded to an internal evaluation of its own work in nutrition, and a number of donor institutions, including most prominently the UK's Department for International Development (DFID) which used the materials and policy energy generated by the 2010 Conference to help guide and push a major expansion of bilateral funding into the ANH arena. These DFID responses alone were a large enough payoff to mark the Conference a success. A third significant impact from the Conference was on professional discourse. The 2010 Conference helped change the conversation about agriculture and food security by boosting the frequency of reference to cross-sector impacts on both nutrition and health. Impact measurement becomes difficult here because the Conference was not the only initiative highlighting cross-sector linkages underway. Nonetheless, the average number of Google Internet hits per search for the phrase linking agriculture, nutrition, and health increased from 9,288 in the pre-Conference period to 13,508 in the immediate post-Conference period of March-May 2011. Searches of organization websites revealed that 18 of 21 of the sites had more links to agriculture nutrition and health issues immediately following the Conference compared to just before and 20 of 21 had an even higher number of such links one year later in July 2012 The most obvious limitation on impact has been at the level of national government policy excluding donor policies Partly this reflects attendance Only 19 percent of those who attended the 2020 Conference were government officials compared to 41 percent who came from research institutes or universities Yet even where Conference impacts on governments might have seemed probable they have proved so far to be mostly tentative or modest The government of Malawi co hosted its own version of the 2020 Conference in Lilongwe in September 2011 While this was an important step the Conference was donor suggested and donor funded and senior officials from the Ministry of Health were unable to attend In Uganda the 2020 Conference helped sustain an effort to mainstream nutrition within the Ministry of Agriculture However this effort was underway before the Conference and parallel efforts from USAID WFP and FAO did as much to sustain it In China the leadership of the State Food and Nutrition Consultation Committee was briefed on 2020 Conference materials which may have helped to establish a new but already approved food safety and nutrition development institute at the Chinese Academy of Agricultural Sciences CAAS Since Chinese leaders had been unable to attend the Conference itself impacts in the country also depended heavily on a separate outreach effort by IFPRI leadership In India national officials and researchers and IFPRI made concerted efforts to use the Conference to shape language in the new 12th Five Year Plan 2012 16 While some engaged in this effort claimed progress in that direction nothing definitive has emerged and in India it appears that little has changed in the traditional separation between the agriculture ministry and the nutrition and health sectors The Conference s largest impacts within India were felt at the individual level at the level of discourse or within some state administrations not within national governmental institutions What can one reasonably expect when looking for impacts from a single international Conference In the case of the 2020 Conference in Delhi where the goal was to change the way individuals and institutions were thinking about ANH issues and considering them in professional discourse measurable progress was made toward each of these goals in both the short term and the medium term IFPRI took a risk by designing the Delhi Conference to challenge traditional paradigms This assessment shows that in both the short term and medium term the risk has been rewarded
