We Eat What? Jonathan Deutsch, 2018-05-25 This entertaining and informative encyclopedia examines American regional foods using cuisine as an engaging lens through which readers can deepen their study of American geography in addition to their understanding of America's collective cultures. Many of the foods we eat every day are unique to the regions of the United States in which we live. New Englanders enjoy coffee milk and whoopie pies while Mid Westerners indulge in deep dish pizza and Cincinnati chili. Some dishes popular in one region may even be unheard of in another region. This fascinating encyclopedia examines over 100 foods that are unique to the United States as well as dishes found only in specific American regions and individual states. Written by an established food scholar, We Eat What? A Cultural Encyclopedia of Bizarre and Strange Foods in the United States covers unusual regional foods and dishes such as hoppin' Johns, hush puppies, shoofly pie, and turducken. Readers will get the inside scoop on each food's origins and history, details on how each food is prepared and eaten, and insights into why and how each food is celebrated in American culture. In addition, readers can follow the recipes in the book's recipe appendix to test out some of the dishes for themselves. Appropriate for lay readers as well as high school students and undergraduates, this work is engagingly written and can be used to learn more about United States geography.

Great American Eating Experiences National Geographic, 2016 A guide to America's diverse food heritage offers a culinary tour of all fifty states covering everything from the best diner food in New Jersey to the top fish tacos and burritos in the West.

120 Dessert Recipe Favorites Mary Engelbreit, 2013-09-10 A reporter once asked Mary Engelbreit if she could cook. She answered honestly by saying, "If my family had to depend on me for food, they would starve to death in a really cute kitchen." So for this cookbook, Mary called upon her family, friends, and fans for their all-time favorite dessert recipes because even though she may not be the chef in the family, Mary still loves and appreciates delicious desserts.
