Balabanski, 2020-01-23 Vicky Balabanski analyses Colossians as a co authored letter written during Paul s Roman imprisonment by Timothy with the input of Epaphras and sent with Paul s introductory and concluding greetings Balabanski sees remarkable resonances between the cosmology of this letter and that of Stoic thought the most widely held philosophy in first century Asia Minor

Drawing upon the way Stoic thinkers saw the divine Spirit permeating reality and sought to attune their lives to the Logos divine reason she argues that the Logos of Christ the Gospel was welcomed by small groups of people shaped by Stoic thought and they experienced Christ as the visible expression of the One God who permeates reality The Letter to the Colossians has the highest view of Christ of any of the New Testament writings and its theology of divine permeation invites us to notice the ecological potential of this letter This Eco Stoic reading brings contemporary ecological questions into dialogue with the distinctive Christology and cosmology of the letter The Poetics of Visuality Justin J. White

,2024-11-14 Justin J White explores the nature of images in ancient Israel through a reconceptualization of the relationship between image and text He proposes that in ancient Israel texts evoked images as a core part of their rhetoric Rather than conceptualizing texts and images as ontologically or functionally distinct media he argues that both media are mixed media even while neither medium is reducible to the other In order to make this argument he focuses on the visual aspects of textual rhetoric what he terms the poetics of visuality He builds his argument across three text specific axes of visual rhetoric ekphrasis the visual imagination and material agency He makes the claim that each of these three axes are endemic to Israelite literature and mutually contribute to the formation of a robust ontology of visual representation in ancient Israel
