Insect Clocks D.S. Saunders, 2002-10-28 Chronobiology is the study of timing mechanisms in biological systems as diverse as plants animals and some micro organisms It includes rhythmic phenomena ranging from short period ultradian through daily circadian to long period monthly annual cycles of behaviour physiology and biochemistry In recent years spectacular advances have been made particularly in the field of circadian rhythms and hardly a week passes without important papers appearing in the major scientific journals The third edition of Insect Clocks like its predecessors deals with the properties and functions of clock like processes in one of the planet's most abundant groups of organisms The first half of the book is concerned with circadian rhythmicity the second with annual responses such as overwintering diapause seasonal morphs and cold hardiness Insect Clocks puts modern developments in these fields into a secure framework of the classical literature that has defined the subject The book is directed at active researchers in the field as well as newcomers and scientists working in many other areas of modern biology It will also serve as a textbook for advanced and less advanced students and should find its way into university libraries wishing to keep abreast of the times

Baroness Elsa Irene Gammel, 2003-08-29 The first biography of the enigmatic dadaist known as the Baroness Elsa von Freytag Loringhoven Elsa von Freytag Loringhoven 1874 1927 is considered by many to be the first American dadaist as well as the mother of dada An innovator in poetic form and an early creator of junk sculpture the Baroness was best known for her sexually charged often controversial performances Some thought her merely crazed others thought her a genius The editor Margaret Anderson called her perhaps the only figure of our generation who deserves the epithet extraordinary Yet despite her great notoriety and influence until recently her story and work have been little known outside the circle of modernist scholars In Baroness Elsa Irene Gammel traces the extraordinary life and work of this daring woman viewing her in the context of female dada and the historical battles fought by women in the early twentieth century Striding through the streets of Berlin Munich New York and Paris wearing such adornments as a tomato soup can bra teaspoon earrings and black lipstick the Baroness erased the boundaries between life and art between the everyday and the outrageous between the creative and the dangerous Her art objects were precursors to dada objects of the teens and twenties her sound and visual poetry were far more daring than those of the male modernists of her time and her performances prefigured feminist body art and performance art by nearly half a century
