Sgcse Exam 2015 Dates

Jessie Abrahams

Sgcse Exam 2015 Dates:

Teacher Status and Professional Learning Linda Clarke, 2025-02-28 The concepts of status and professionalism are key issues in teaching and teacher education across the United Kingdom and internationally While there is increasing recognition that high quality teachers are crucial this coexists with a persistent culture of blaming and shaming them Student teachers will live out their careers within this maelstrom so need to be encouraged to consider the place of their profession both locally and globally and teacher educators can support them to make a realistic yet ambitious analysis This book answers a fundamental need for teachers to position themselves in their professional world It uses an innovative Place Model to explore the professional learning of teachers examining place in terms of both hierarchical status and as a cumulative journey of professional learning within ever expanding horizons It looks at the nature of professionalism why teacher status is important where trainees might fit within the model and what infrastructure needs to be in place to support teachers career long professional learning

Social Media and Journalism Ján Višňovský, Jana Radošinská, 2018-10-31 Nowadays social media are amongst the most frequently used entertainment and information sources offering the most recent news National international and global issues of social media journalism involve a wide spectrum of complex questions related to the production distribution and reception of media contents as well as a plethora of social cultural economic legal and ethical aspects to consider The publication you are holding in your hands is an attempt to provide various theoretical and empirical frameworks that may help us better understand social media journalism from different points of view and in diverse contexts The individual chapters are written by authors with various scholarly affiliations working in international academic circles Even though the methods they use and problems they discuss vary they all pursue the same objective to find out more about the implications of the existence and popularity of social media especially social media journalism

From GCSEs to EBCs Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government's plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals

Educational Leadership Steven Courtney, Ruth McGinity, Helen Gunter, 2017-08-10 Educational Leadership brings together innovative perspectives on the crucial role of theory and theorising in educational leadership at a time when the multiple pressures of marketisation competition and system fragmentation dominate the educational landscape This original and highly thought provoking edited collection is a much needed counterbalance to the anti theoretical trends that have underpinned recent education reforms Contributors employ a range of theories in original and innovative ways in order to reveal the lived experiences of what it means to be an educational leader at a time of rapid modernisation where the conceptual terrain of modern has been appropriated by corporate and private interests where notions of public are not only hidden but also derided and where school leaders must meet the conflicting demands of competing accountabilities Drawing on research projects conducted in the UK Educational Leadership presents convincing evidence that the need to consider theory crosses national borders and the authors discuss changes to professional identities and practices that researchers around the world will recognise This detailed and insightful work will appeal to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education and sociology as well as those with an interest in organisational and political theory The topical subject matter also makes the book of relevance to practitioners and policy makers in education and the public services more generally

Schooling Inequality Jessie Abrahams, 2024-03-20 Drawing on unique new research gathered from three contrasting secondary schools in England this book explores the aspirations opportunities and experiences of young people from different social class backgrounds against a backdrop of continuing inequalities in education

Language Development and Social Integration of Students with English as an Additional Language Michael Evans, Claudia Schneider, Madeleine Arnot, Linda Fisher, Karen Forbes, Yongcan Liu, Oakleigh Welply, 2020-07-16 Given the current context of the experience of migration on schools in England and Europe and the competing policies and approaches to social integration in schools there is a need to understand the connection between language development and social integration as a basis for promoting appropriate policies and practices This volume explores the complex relationship between language education and the social integration of newcomer migrant children in England through an in depth analysis of case studies from schools in the East of England The authors set this evidence against the background of policy debates in the wider international setting including a critical discussion of assumptions underlying national narratives of mainstreaming and assimilation In the light of an absence of national guidelines for appropriate practice in schools the authors outline a model of inclusive pedagogy for English as an additional language EAL and a framework of home school communication to promote effective EAL parental engagement in schools

Ireland Curtis C. Holland,2022-07-26 Inequality Identity and the Politics of Northern Ireland examines how the politics of threat and resentment undergirded by persistent poverty and class and gender inequalities across Catholic and Protestant communities shape dynamics of political conflict while simultaneously giving way to critical subjectivities at the community level through which more transformative visions of peace may emerge

Education Policy, Practice and the Professional Jane Bates, Sue Lewis, Andy Pickard, 2019-03-21 In this introduction to educational policy practice and professionalism the authors focus first on providing an historical overview of English policy from the state's first interventions in education through to Thatcherism and the election of the Blair government. Chapters then explore the key contemporary policies of recent times and offer a critique on how they have worked in practice with reference to the hysteria that often surrounds education policy. An important theme is media representation of educational matters and the effects this has on the teaching profession. Commentaries and case studies are presented throughout providing an accessible link to what it was really like to learn, teach and live at the time the policy was in place. This new edition now includes an account of the measures taken by the Coalition Government of 2010-15, examining the Coalition's continuities with the previous administration whilst also exploring departures from previous thinking and practices, updated references and case studies throughout to represent new research and legislation since the first edition, an extended discussion of globalization and global policy, borrowing further coverage of social justice theory including a perspective on identity theory and the role of education in the development of identity and the marginalisation of individuals and groups, a new historical chapter covering the period 1945 to 1997, a summary of the development of the curriculum and a critique of the 2014 National Curriculum as pioneered by Michael Gove and a new conclusion setting out the trajectory of current policies and how this may affect educational practitioners. This is essential reading for all undergraduate students studying education policy and practice.

Debates in History Teaching Ian Davies, 2017-02-16 Now in its second edition, Debates in History Teaching remains at the cutting edge of history education. It has been fully updated to take into account the latest developments in policy, research and professional practice. With further exploration into the major issues that history teachers encounter in their daily professional lives, it provides fresh guidance for thinking and practice for teachers within the UK and beyond. Written by a range of experts in history education, chapters cover all the key issues needed for clear thinking and excellent professional action. This book will enable you to reach informed judgements and argue your point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding. Debates include: What is happening today in history education? What is the purpose of history teaching? What do history teachers need to know? What are the key trends and issues in international contexts? What is the role of evidence in history teaching and learning? How should you make use of ICT in your lessons? Should moral learning be an aim of history education? How should history learning be assessed? Debates in History Teaching remains essential reading for any student or practising teacher engaged in initial training, continuing professional development or Master's level study.
