Pride And Prejudice Hidden Lusts:

Pride and Prejudice Mitzi Szereto, 2011-07-01 Imagine that Jane Austen had written the opening line of her satirical novel Pride and Prejudice this way It is a truth universally acknowledged that a single man in possession of a good fortune must be in want of a good romp and a good wife although not necessarily from the same person or from the opposite sex In Pride and Prejudice Hidden Lusts Mr Darcy has never been more devilish and the seemingly chaste Elizabeth never more turned on The entire cast of characters from Austen's classic is here in this rewrite that goes all the way This time Mr Bingley and his sister both have designs on Mr Darcy's manhood Elizabeth's bff Charlotte marries their family's strange relation and stumbles upon a secret world of feminine relations more to her liking and in this telling men are not necessarily the only dominating sex And of course there's some good old fashioned bodice ripping that shows no pride or prejudice and reveals hot hidden lusts in every page turning chapter

Everybody's Jane Juliette Wells, 2012-01-19 The first book to investigate Jane Austen's popular significance today Everybody's Jane considers why Austen matters to amateur readers how they make use of her novels what they gain from visiting places associated with her and why they create works of fiction and nonfiction inspired by her novels and life The voices of everyday readers emerge from both published and unpublished sources including interviews conducted with literary tourists and archival research into the founding of the Jane Austen Society of North America and the exceptional Austen collection of Alberta Hirshheimer Burke of Baltimore Additional topics include new Austen portraits portrayals of Austen and of Austen fans in film and fiction and hybrid works that infuse Austen's writings with horror erotica or explicit Christianity Everybody's Jane will appeal to all those who care about Austen and will change how we think about the importance of literature and reading today
