Handbook of Research on Enhancing Innovation in Higher Education Institutions Babić, Verica, Nedelko, Zlatko, 2020-03-27

Innovation in higher education is a process of institutional adaptation to changes in the environment that enables higher education institutions to improve their existing practice and to be innovative at different levels and in different forms Moreover innovativeness is also related to internal characteristics of higher education institutions Innovation in higher education can be observed as a result of the changing contexts in which higher education institutions function Adjacent a comprehensive approach to considering innovativeness is needed in order to enable the examination of different elements of innovativeness in higher education that is to identify the key factors that de stimulate innovations and affect their interactions with other relevant stakeholders at the national level and beyond The Handbook of Research on Enhancing Innovation in Higher Education Institutions is a critical scholarly book that examines innovativeness in higher education and its complications and diversity Starting from the view that higher education is currently confronted by global forces that require new research ideas the publication suggests that comprehensive understanding of innovativeness is imperative for higher education s institutions in the 21st century Analyzing the recognized trends within the publication and concluding which aspects should be taken to improve innovativeness in higher education this reference book outlines quality and innovation in teaching innovative university business cooperation institutional framework and governance of higher education institutions knowledge management and leadership and organizational culture It is ideal for curriculum designers administrators researchers policymakers academicians professionals and students

Meaningful Economics Bart J. Wilson, 2024

Economics has a problem the discipline cannot distinguish the causes of human action from the consequences of human action Economists deal with matters of fact not with feelings and morals They model representations of optimal agents not flesh and blood human beings in ordinary life By assuming that incentives and self interest are sufficient to explain economic activity economic science proceeds as if the human mind does not matter But the origins of our actions ideas do indeed matter They make us human In Meaningful Economics Bart J Wilson challenges economics to directly engage human beings as we really are not as economists ideally assume Wilson argues that economic science is as much about purposes and human values as it is about incentives Moreover he shows how the outcomes of our decisions costs and benefits and the origins of our decisions motives and goals can be understood in an integrated way Over the course of the book Wilson develops a framework that connects the origins of human action to the outcomes of human action explaining human conduct with causes and effects He then shows how three basic principles of economics trade specialization and property require meaning values and purpose With a fresh perspective and a novel theoretical framework that bridges economics and ethics Meaningful Economics explains the roots of human conduct and its economic effects by grounding a science of economics in the moral sentiments that prompt human beings to act Микроэкономика 2-е изд., испр. и доп.
