Irrigation Theory And Practice - 2Nd Edn A M Michael, 2009-11. It is a comprehensive treatise on Water Resources Development and Irrigation Management. For the last 30 years the book has enjoyed the status of a definitive textbook on the subject. It has now been thoroughly revised and updated and thus substantially enlarged. In addition to the wholesale revision of the existing chapters, three new chapters have been added to the book, namely: Lift Irrigation Systems and their Design; Water Requirement of Crops; and Irrigation Management and Economic Evaluation of Irrigation Projects and Water Pricing Policy.

Physiological Plant Ecology II Otto L. Lange, 2012-12-06. O. L. LANGE, P. S. NOBEL, C. B. OSMOND and H. ZIEGLER. In the original series of the Encyclopedia of Plant Physiology, plant water relations and photosynthesis were treated separately and the connection between phenomena was only considered in special chapters. O. STOCKER edited Volume III: Pflanze und Wasser. Water Relations of Plants in 1956 and 4 years later Volume V: Parts I and 2: Die CO<sub>2</sub>-Assimilation. The Assimilation of Carbon Dioxide appeared, edited by A. PIRSON. Until recently there has also been a tendency to cover these aspects of plant physiology separately in most text books. Without doubt this separation is justifiable. If one is specifically interested for example in photosynthetic electron transport in details of photophosphorylation or in carbon metabolism in the Calvin cycle, it is not necessary to ask how these processes relate to the water relations of the plant. Accordingly, this separate coverage has been maintained in the New Series of the Encyclopedia of Plant Physiology. The two volumes devoted exclusively to photosynthesis are Volume 5: Photosynthesis I, edited by A. TREBST and M. AVRON, and Volume 6: Photosynthesis II, edited by M. GIBBS and E. LATZKO. When considering carbon assimilation and plant water relations from an ecological point of view, however we have to recognize that this separation is arbitrary Water Resources Research Catalog ,1966
