Governing Ourselves? Mary Louise McAllister, 2011-11-01 Popular rhetoric suggests that the twenty first century has ushered in an era of homogeneity Urbanization globalization amalgamation media conglomeration and technological convergence have become familiar terms Given the pressures of integration and assimilation how are people within communities able to make decisions about their own environment whether individually or collectively To what extent can they govern themselves Governing Ourselves explores issues of influence and power within local institutions and decision making processes using numerous illustrations from municipalities across Canada It shows how communities large and small from Toronto to Iqaluit have distinctive political cultures and therefore respond differently to changing global and domestic environments Case studies of Prince George Sherbrooke Saint John and Kitchener Waterloo are used to illuminate historical and contemporary challenges to local governance This stimulating book covers traditional topics such as government structures and institutions and intergovernmental relations It also reaches more broadly into areas of inquiry relevant to geography urban planning environmental studies public administration sociology and Canadian studies

International Handbook of Educational Policy Nina Bascia, Alister Cumming, Amanda Datnow, Kenneth Leithwood, David Livingstone, 2008-05-14 Nina Bascia Alister Cumming Amanda Datnow Kenneth Leithwood and David Livingstone This Handbook presents contemporary and emergent trends in educational policy research in over 40 chapters written by nearly ninety leading researchers from a number of countries It is organized into five broad sections which capture many of the current dominant educational policy foci and at the same time situate current understandings historically in terms of both how they are conceptualized and in terms of past policy practice The chapters themselves are empirically grounded providing illustrations of the conceptual implications contained within them as well as allowing for comparisons across them The serendipity within chapters with respect to jurisdictional particularities and contexts allows readers to consider not only a range of approaches to policy analysis but also the ways in which policies and policy ideas play out in different times and places The sections move from a focus on prevailing policy tendencies through increasingly critical and outsider perspectives on policy They address in turn the contemporary strategic emphasis on large scale reform substantive emphases at several levels on leadership and governance improving teacher quality and conceptualizing learning in various domains around the notion of literacies and concluding nally with a contrasting topic workplace learning which has had less policy attention and thus allows readers to consider both the advantages and disadvantages of learning and teaching under the bright gaze of policy 2017 CFR Annual Print Title 29 Labor Part 1900 to 1910.999) Office of The Federal Register,2017-07-01 2018 CFR Annual Print Title 29 Labor Part 1900 to 1910.999) Office of The Federal Register,2018-07-01 Package X United States.
