Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug-in Electric Vehicles

National Research Council, Transportation Research Board, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Overcoming Barriers to Electric-Vehicle Deployment, 2015-06-26 In the past few years interest in plug in electric vehicles PEVs has grown Advances in battery and other technologies new federal standards for carbon dioxide emissions and fuel economy state zero emission vehicle requirements and the current administration's goal of putting millions of alternative fuel vehicles on the road have all highlighted PEVs as a transportation alternative Consumers are also beginning to recognize the advantages of PEVs over conventional vehicles such as lower operating costs smoother operation and better acceleration the ability to fuel up at home and zero tailpipe emissions when the vehicle operates solely on its battery There are however barriers to PEV deployment including the vehicle cost the short all electric driving range the long battery charging time uncertainties about battery life the few choices of vehicle models and the need for a charging infrastructure to support PEVs What should industry do to improve the performance of PEVs and make them more attractive to consumers At the request of Congress Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug in Electric Vehicles identifies barriers to the introduction of electric vehicles and recommends ways to mitigate these barriers This report examines the characteristics and capabilities of electric vehicle technologies such as cost performance range safety and durability and assesses how these factors might create barriers to widespread deployment Overcoming Barriers to Deployment of Plug in Electric Vehicles provides an overview of the current status of PEVs and makes recommendations to spur the industry and increase the attractiveness of this promising technology for consumers Through consideration of consumer behaviors tax incentives business models incentive programs and infrastructure needs this book studies the state of the industry and makes recommendations to further its development and acceptance

Outsider Scientists Oren Harman, Michael R. Dietrich, 2013-12-11 Outsider Scientists describes the transformative role played by outsiders in the growth of the modern life sciences Biology which occupies a special place between the exact and human sciences has historically attracted many thinkers whose primary training was in other fields mathematics physics chemistry linguistics philosophy history anthropology engineering and even literature These outsiders brought with them ideas and tools that were foreign to biology but which when applied to biological problems helped to bring about dramatic and often surprising breakthroughs This volume brings together eighteen thought provoking biographical essays of some of the most remarkable outsiders of the modern era each written by an authority in the respective field From Noam Chomsky using linguistics to answer questions about brain architecture to Erwin Schrödinger contemplating DNA as a physicist would to Drew Endy tinkering with Biobricks to create new forms of synthetic life the outsiders featured here make clear just how much there is to gain from disrespecting conventional boundaries Innovation it turns out often relies on importing new ideas from other fields Without its outsiders modern biology would hardly be recognizable Food

Assembling Bus Rapid Transit in the Global South Malve Jacobsen, 2020-12-13 This book explores the mobile ethnography of Dar es Salaam where consultants and politicians have planned and implemented a bus rapid transit BRT system for two decades It analyses the dual processes of assembling BRT in the Tanzanian metropolis and establishing BRT as a policy model of and for the Global South The book elucidates how policy models are constructed and circulated around the globe and depicts the processes by which they are translated between and materialise within specific contexts It presents the case of BRT to demonstrate how technocrats shape these processes through persuasive work aimed at disseminating and stabilising this transport model and how local actors influence its adaptation in Dar es Salaam The book adopts a double mobility approach to show how this ethnography follows travelling consultants circulating policies and moving buses to explore the fluidity of the BRT model Linking key debates in policy mobility studies and Science and Technology Studies enriched with postcolonial perspectives and geographies of transport and infrastructure it offers new insights into the technopolitics of planning and implementing infrastructure systems This book will appeal to academics and students of human geography transport studies science and technology studies and African and development studies interested in the technopolitics of transport planning

Biofeedback and Sports Science J.H. Sandweiss, S.L. Wolf, 2013-06-29 There is a new breed of athletic coach in the educational arena While on speaking engagements around the world I've encouraged coaches to jump head first and quickly into sports science The reason is simple With new electronic communication systems coming on the market almost daily athletes can get valid and reliable information to help them maximize sports skills and this information can come faster than most coaches are able to deliver Coaches have historically rejected most sports science efforts in favor of traditional seat of the pants systems but now there is a new kind of athlete who is asking questions never before presented to the coach Professional athletes are individually seeking out sports scientists for answers to their particular problems Stories appear daily in the media about athletes making quantum jumps in performance as a result of their association with sports scientists The tidal wave is building and no one can stop it not even the sporting goods industry High tech athletic equipment is now a must in nearly every sport Large sporting goods companies have nearly gone bankrupt because of competitors new high tech products

FOREWORD The tail is wagging the dog Professional amateur and weekend athletes alike are demanding technical answers of our sports leaders and they are going elsewhere if the correct answers aren't available The number of Olympic athletes visiting our Coto Research Center in California is staggering

Stream Hydrology Nancy D. Gordon, Thomas A. McMahon, Brian L. Finlayson, Christopher J. Gippel, Rory J. Nathan, 2013-05-03 Since the publication of the first edition 1994 there have been rapid developments in the application of hydrology geomorphology and ecology to stream management In particular growth has occurred in the areas of stream rehabilitation and the evaluation of environmental flow needs The concept of stream health has been adopted as a way of assessing stream resources and setting management goals Stream Hydrology An Introduction for Ecologists Second Edition documents recent research and practice in these areas Chapters provide information on sampling field techniques stream analysis the hydrodynamics of moving water channel form sediment transport and commonly used statistical methods such as flow duration and flood frequency analysis Methods are presented from engineering hydrology fluvial geomorphology and hydraulics with examples of their biological implications This book demonstrates how these fields are linked and utilised in modern scientific river management Emphasis on applications from collecting and analysing field measurements to using data and tools in stream management Updated to include new sections on environmental flows rehabilitation measuring stream health and stream classification Critical reviews of the successes and failures of implementation Revised and updated windows based AQUAPAK software This book is essential reading for 2nd 3rd year undergraduates and postgraduates of hydrology stream ecology and fisheries science in Departments of Physical Geography Biology Environmental Science Landscape Ecology Environmental Engineering and Limnology It would be valuable reading for professionals working in stream ecology fisheries science and habitat management environmental consultants and engineers

Curvature: A Variational Approach A. Agrachev, D. Barilari, L. Rizzi, 2019-01-08 The curvature discussed in this paper is a far reaching generalization of the Riemannian sectional curvature The authors give a unified definition of curvature which applies to a wide class of geometric structures whose geodesics arise from optimal control problems including Riemannian sub Riemannian Finsler and sub Finsler spaces Special attention is paid to the sub Riemannian or Carnot Carathéodory metric spaces The authors construction of curvature is direct and naive and similar to the original approach of Riemann In particular they extract geometric invariants from the asymptotics of the cost of optimal control problems Surprisingly it works in a very general setting and in particular for all sub Riemannian spaces

Coercive Care Bernadette Mcsherry, Ian Freckelton, 2013-06-26 There has been much debate about mental health law reform and mental capacity legislation in recent years with the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities also having a major impact on thinking about the issue This edited volume explores the concept of coercive care in relation to individuals such as those with severe mental illnesses those with intellectual and cognitive disabilities and those with substance use problems With a focus on choice and capacity the book explores the impact of and challenges posed by the provision of care in an involuntary environment The contributors to the book look at mental health capacity and vulnerable adults care as well as the law related to those areas The book is split into four parts which cover human rights and coercive care legal capacity and coercive care the legal coordination of coercive care and coercive care and individuals with cognitive impairments The book covers new ground by exploring issues arising from the coercion of persons with various disabilities and vulnerabilities helping to illustrate how the capacity to provide consent to treatment and care is impaired by reason of their condition

Professional Journal of the United States Army, 2015 Fat Talk Virginia Sole-Smith, 2023-04-25 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A Book Riot best book of 2023 A Science Friday best book of 2023 An Audible best well being audiobook of 2023 By the time they reach kindergarten most kids believe that fat is bad By middle school more than a quarter of them have gone on a diet What are parents supposed to do Kids learn as we've all learned that thinness is a survival strategy in a world that equates body size and value Parents worry if their kids care too much about being thin but even more about the consequences if they aren't And multibillion dollar industries thrive on this fear of fatness We've fought the war on obesity for over forty years and Americans aren't thinner or happier with their bodies But it's not our kids or their weight who need fixing In this illuminating narrative journalist Virginia Sole Smith exposes the daily onslaught of fatphobia and body shaming that kids face from school sports doctors diet culture and parents themselves and offers strategies for how families can change the conversation around weight health and self worth Fat Talk is a stirring deeply researched and groundbreaking book that will help parents learn to reckon with their own body biases identify diet culture and empower their kids to navigate this challenging landscape Sole Smith draws on her extensive reporting and interviews with dozens of parents and kids to offer a provocative new approach for thinking about food and bodies and a way for us all to work toward a more weight inclusive world
