Discrimination Law Sandra Fredman FBA KC,2022-11-28 This book is a challenging thought provoking yet highly accessible introduction to discrimination law It takes a thematic approach illuminating the major issues in discrimination law while imparting an in depth understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of legal responses to complex social problems of inequality This is enhanced by the comparative approach By considering equality law in the UK US India Canada and South Africa as well as the European Union and under the European Convention on Human Rights the book exposes common problems across different jurisdictions and canvasses a variety of differing solutions As in the highly successful previous editions the book locates discrimination law within its historical and social context One of its major strengths is the development of an analytic framework of substantive equality drawing on a range of sources and the author's wide experience of equality law in many jurisdictions As well as chapters charting the social challenges and legal responses the book compares the ways in which different jurisdictions formulate grounds of discrimination or protected characteristics the meaning of key concepts such as direct discrimination disparate treatment indirect discrimination disparate impact and when limitations on equality are legitimate Later chapters test these concepts in some of the most challenging contexts pregnancy and parenting equal pay reasonable accommodation and sexual harassment as well as to the particularly controversial issue of affirmative action or deliberate preference policies Discussing at length how racism sexism LGBTQ rights and other topics impact these contexts The final chapter asks how the right to equality can be made more effective critically assessing the paradigm individual complaints model and possible alternatives from class actions and strategic litigation to mainstreaming and positive duties to promote equality After Dictatorship Peter Hoeres, Hubertus Knabe, 2023-02-20

Numerous studies concerning transitional justice exist However comparatively speaking the effects actually achieved by measures for coming to terms with dictatorships have seldom been investigated There is an even greater lack of transnational analyses This volume contributes to closing this gap in research To this end it analyses processes of coming to terms with the past in seven countries with different experiences of violence and dictatorship Experts have drawn up detailed studies on transitional justice in Albania Argentina Ethiopia Chile Rwanda South Africa and Uruguay Their analyses constitute the empirical material for a comparative study of the impact of measures introduced within the context of transitional justice It becomes clear that there is no sure formula for dealing with dictatorships Successes and deficits alike can be observed in relation to the individual instruments of transitional justice from criminal prosecution to victim compensation Nevertheless the South American states perform much better than those on the African continent This depends less on the instruments used than on political and social factors Consequently strategies of transitional justice should focus more closely on these contextual factors Constructing and Imagining Labour Migration Sandra Mantu, 2016-05-23

Labour migration has been on the agenda of many countries around the globe at the same time as governments of both sending and receiving countries have been trying to develop regulatory mechanisms This book opens the debate on the global politics of labour migration by proposing a re assessment of the interaction between states regarding labour migration Presenting case specific scholarship from leading experts from five different continents each contribution engages with the changing landscape of migration control and teases out emerging control patterns dynamics and correlations that can be made between them and existing control paradigms The multidisciplinary and global focus in Constructing and Imagining Labour Migration sheds much needed light on the mechanisms deployed by states in their attempts to control labour migration and on the manner in which these mechanisms impact upon migrants themselves leaving some caught up in the politics of labour market control Maritime Crime and Policing Yarin Eski, Martin Wright, 2023-04-28

This book offers a unique and scholarly perspective on a little studied subject maritime crime and policing The seas and oceans cover 70 percent of the earth's surface and 90 percent of world trade by volume travels by sea Furthermore the refugee crisis has produced an inflow of people attempting to find a better life particularly in Northwest Europe and the UK which has had an impact on the maritime domains of European ports While there has been attention paid to the role of maritime policing by scholars in maritime security studies little attention has been paid by criminologists and policing studies scholars This book aims to fill this gap Bringing together a range of international scholars this book covers a variety of topics pertinent to maritime crime and its policing such as fraud piracy and armed robbery at sea illegal and unregulated fishing smuggling people trafficking illegal immigration illegal dumping and pollution arms trafficking terrorism and cargo theft It brings together new perspectives on several key criminological themes such as transnational organised crime criminalisation and securitisation and provides a bold new direction for the landlocked discipline of criminology and policing studies An accessible and compelling read this book will be of interest to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology politics migration studies and all those interested in the policing of the sea Country Reports on Human Rights Practices ,2000 Encyclopedia of
