USMC Tactical Combat Casualty Care (TCCC / TC3) Guidelines ,2013-10-28

Tactical Combat Casualty Care Guidelines 28 October 2013 All changes to the guidelines made since those published in the 2010 Seventh Edition of the PHTLS Manual are shown in bold text The most recent changes are shown in red text These recommendations are intended to be guidelines only and are not a substitute for clinical judgment

Basic Management Plan for Care Under Fire

- 1 Return fire and take cover
- 2 Direct or expect casualty to remain engaged as a combatant if appropriate
- 3 Direct casualty to move to cover and apply self aid if able
- 4 Try to keep the casualty from sustaining additional wounds
- 5 Casualties should be extricated from burning vehicles or buildings and moved to places of relative safety Do what is necessary to stop the burning process 6 Airway management is generally best deferred until the Tactical Field Care phase 7 Stop life threatening external hemorrhage if tactically feasible Direct casualty to control hemorrhage by self aid if able Use a CoTCCC recommended tourniquet for hemorrhage that is anatomically amenable to tourniquet application Apply the tourniquet proximal to the bleeding site over the uniform tighten and move the casualty to cover USMC COMBAT throughout the US Military and various allied countries the TCCC guidelines were first introduced in 1996 for use by Special Operations corpsmen medics and pararescue PJs. The TCCC guidelines are currently endorsed by the American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma and the National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians. The guidelines have been incorporated into the Prehospital Trauma Life Support (PHTLS) text since the 4th edition. INTRODUCTION Military Working Dogs (MWDs) are at the same risk for injury as their human counterparts and when they are severely injured best practice for resuscitation mirrors those recommended for humans. A recent study of trauma in MWDs shows that explosions gunshot wounds and lacerations account for the vast majorities of injuries sustained within the Central Command area of responsibility. In severe cases these mechanisms of injuries could require resuscitation with blood products. Hemostatic resuscitation has been shown in many species to be superior to resuscitation with crystalloids or synthetic colloids and should therefore be considered the first choice resuscitation product in severely wounded MWDs.

The Water Footprint Assessment Manual Arjen Hoekstra, Ashok K. Chapagain, Maite M. Aldaya, Mesfin M. Mekonnen, 2012-08-21 People use lots of water for drinking cooking and washing but significantly more for producing things such as food paper and cotton clothes. The water footprint is an indicator of water use that looks at both direct and indirect water use of a consumer or producer Indirect use refers to the virtual water embedded in tradable goods and commodities such as cereals sugar or cotton The water footprint of an individual community or business is defined as the total volume of freshwater that is used to produce the goods and services consumed by the individual or community or produced by the business This book offers a complete and up to date overview of the global standard on water footprint assessment as developed by the Water Footprint Network More specifically it o Provides a comprehensive set of methods for water footprint assessment o Shows how water footprints can be calculated for individual processes and products as well as for consumers nations and businesses o Contains detailed worked examples of how to calculate green blue and grey water footprints o Describes how to assess the sustainability of the aggregated water footprint within a river basin or the water footprint of a specific product o Includes an extensive library of possible measures that can contribute to water footprint reduction

Trauma Team Dynamics Lawrence Marshall Gillman, Sandy Widder, 2025-09-12 The majority of medical errors are non technical in nature stemming from faulty decision making asynchronous information gathering lack of situational awareness and ineffective communication and team leadership. Reviews of accidents from other high risk industries including the airline industry have had similar findings. This led the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA and the airline industry to develop crew now crisis resource management CRM training. These team based training strategies address non technical skills to counteract human error and improve team and patient safety. Medicine has begun adapting this training especially within the realms of anesthesia and critical care Trauma surgery has been slower to utilize this work however simulation based training is increasing in popularity The first edition of Trauma Team Dynamics was a revolutionary book in the field of trauma care It was the first text that integrated the complexities of trauma care but illustrated how these could be streamlined and improved through a team based focus and training CRM and team based training has grown substantially in the past six years since this text was conceived and there have been significant developments both in the breadth of the training as well as refinement in the topics covered teaching methods utilized and strategies employed to overcome the multitude of challenges still faced in this area The second edition of this text expands greatly on the initial CRM topics covered in the opening section of the book Hot topics in CRM training including the concepts of followership and conflict resolution and highlights strategies such as mindfulness and others to manage stress and reduce burnout are discussed The text also expands into novel areas of trauma care including less invasive bedside endovascular treatments such as REBOA Resuscitative Endovascular Balloon Occlusion of the Aorta and a more in depth discussion of teleresuscitation and trauma care in austere environments Featuring 28 new chapters the second edition of Trauma Team Dynamics is written by experts in trauma critical care emergency medicine nursing respiratory therapy and pre hospital care and include NASA and United States military affiliated experts It is intended for use as both a day to day clinical resource and a reference text and includes self assessment questions as well as guidance on CRM curriculum design and implementation
