

TEACHER'S GUIDE

Differentiating Instruction

Quicker Coverage

Eliminate TP33 from the Experiential Exercise Students complete three archaeological digs for this activity to mimic ones that occurred in 1900, 1933, and 2004. To save time, consider cutting the TP33 dig. Although this dig introduces another language that existed in ancient Persia, eliminating it will not undermine student understanding of how new discoveries change our knowledge of ancient cultures.

Quit the Preview Activity Eliminate the Preview activity and move immediately to the Experiential Exercise of the presentation.

Deeper Coverage

Create a Timeline Have students create a timeline of ancient Persia, beginning with the basic peoples. The timeline should cover empires, major figures, and events. Some details in the text are discussed in terms of empire or ruler rather than date. Students should place these details accordingly.

English Learners

Have Students Work with a Peer on Reading Notes Pair students with more proficient readers of English. Have them record all the information together on one copy of the Reading Notes. After the activity photocopy the Reading Notes so that each student has a copy.

The Entrepreneurial Self Ulrich Bröckling,2015-11-09 This is a book about who we are today and how we have become who we are It is about the engineers of the modern soul the entrepreneurial self It is essential reading for all those who care about the incessant demands placed on us to become more than we are to become entrepreneurs of our selves to maximise and optimise our capacities in ways that align personal identity and political responsibility Professor Peter Miller London School of Economics Political Science Ulrich Bröckling claims that the imperative to act like an entrepreneur has turned ubiquitous In Western society there is a drive to orient your thinking and behaviour on the objective of market success which dictates the private and professional spheres Life is now ruled by competition for power money fitness and youth The self is driven to constantly improve change and adapt to a society only capable of producing winners and losers The Entrepreneurial Self explores the series of juxtapositions within the self created by this call for entrepreneurship Whereas it can expose unknown potential it also leads to over challenging It may strengthen self confidence but it also exacerbates the feeling of powerlessness It may set free creativity but it also generates unbounded anger Competition is driven by the promise that only the capable will reap success but no amount of effort can remove the risk of failure The individual has no choice but to balance out the contradiction between the hope of rising and the fear of decline Ulrich Bröckling is Professor of Cultural Sociology at the Albert Ludwigs University Freiburg Germany
