

Analyzing Character Development

Learning

What are the characters' attitudes, or how they think, act, and feel? They can also describe the characters' motivations, or the reasons for their actions.

Learning Objectives

What makes the characters in a story seem real? It's all in the details. Authors can describe the characters' attitudes, or how they think, act, and feel. They can also describe the characters' motivations, or the reasons for their actions.

Often, a character's attitude and motivation change during a story. As the story unfolds, readers learn more about a character based on how that person responds to events.

Study the cartoons. For each panel, think about what the boy does and why he does it.

Complete the chart below, based on details you can see in the cartoon above.

What the Boy Does	Why He Does It	What This Shows About Him
He looks serious when he talks to the girl.	He might think it is funny.	He just doesn't want her to play games.
He looks like when the girl becomes very upset.	He wonders if he just was such a good idea.
He gives the girl a very serious look when she is upset.

Describe how the boy seems to change over time.

Characters in stories often change in response to events. If this sounds familiar, it should. It's one of the ways in which authors make their stories similar to real life.
