

(Responding to question #6 on ReadWorks)

How did both Reignier's and Nissa's classmates change their behavior by the end of the passages? Use details from both texts in your answer.

Extended Constructed Response Example

Different cultures around the world have many kinds of popular dishes. Foods from different cultures are included in both Reignier's Words and The Meaning of My Lunch. In both texts, the main characters' classmates change their behavior by being more accepting of the different cultures around them.

In the text Reignier's Words, the main character's classmates change from laughing at his choice of words, to wanting to learn how to use some of the words he does. In the text it says, "a few of Reignier's classmates giggled" when he said something in Tagalog. Later in the text, Reignier helps a dog by giving it commands in the same language. When the classmates saw this, they said, "can you teach me?" This shows that the classmates may have been judgemental at the start, but came to appreciate and accept the types of words Reignier used.

In the text The Meaning of My Lunch, the main character's classmates change by being judgemental of her lunch, to thinking it wasn't so bad. In the beginning of the text it says that a classmate says, "What is that? It smells really bad" when talking about the main character's lunch. After the main character offers some to a classmate, he says, "Uh... you know, this isn't too bad. It's got a nice flavor." This shows that although the classmate was judgmental at first, they were accepting at the end.

In conclusion, the classmates from both texts change their behavior by being more accepting of the different cultures around them. You should be more accepting of different cultures as well, because you never know what you might learn that you like.

Teacher Education Test Constructed Response Essay:

A Teacher's Guide to Educational Assessment Iasonas Lamprianou, James A. Athanasou, 2009-01-01 This book is a natural step beyond our earlier text A Teacher's Guide to Assessment which was published almost six years ago. The purpose of this book is to offer a straightforward guide to educational assessment for teachers at all levels of education including trainers and instructors. The scope of this book is wider however and the targeted audience is broader than the first edition. It is designed to address the needs not only of those taking a first course in educational assessment and measurement but it can also usefully serve students at the post graduate level as well as experienced teachers, trainers and instructors who would like to update their knowledge and acquire practical skills using relevant quantitative methods. The book is appropriate for an international audience. In this revised edition we have added new and important material which covers the assessment arrangements necessary for people with special needs and the use of technology for assessment purposes. We have elaborated on the dangers of differential item functioning, we have extended the Rasch measurement material and enriched the book with practical examples using Microsoft Excel. The main message of the book is that assessment is not based on commonsense but on a huge body of international research and application over many years. Testing is a powerful vital and large part of a teacher's assessment arsenal because it can be practical, structured and very informative. The correct use of testing either in its traditional paper and pencil form or in its modern technology based style can be a formidable ally for every teacher who aspires to practise evidence based teaching and learning. CliffsNotes Praxis Reading for Virginia Educators Jane R. Burstein, Diane E. Kern, 2020-12-15 The perfect way to study for Virginia's elementary education and special education reading teacher certification test with subject reviews and two model practice tests. Focusing on what entry level Virginia elementary and special education teachers need to be certified to teach, this test prep guide includes targeted strategies for the selected response and constructed response questions and reviews of every test specification a candidate will be tested on including instructional process assessment and diagnostic teaching, oral language and communication, reading development and writing and research. The two practice tests are full length model exams that include answers and explanations to help candidates succeed when they take the test. Evaluation and Testing in Nursing Education, Sixth Edition Marilyn H. Oermann, Kathleen B.
