

Mindful Resource Teacher Paraprofessional Team Meeting Notes Template

HOW TO USE: Paraprofessional Meeting Notes Template

Description: This is a one-page meeting notes template that allows you to record topics discussed at meetings between you, as a special education teacher, and paraprofessionals on your team.

Use: This template is designed to be used when you meet with paraprofessionals individually or as a group. It allows you to have a record of what was discussed and any follow-up that was needed. They can be kept in a team meeting binder or in individual binders for each team member. This is very useful in keeping records of the dissemination of information and discussion of students' programs.

Examples of follow up:

Teacher will provide paraprofessional with specific information, resources or items.

Paraprofessional understands and will begin using a certain process, procedure or resource.

Teacher/paraprofessional will speak to another team member and report back.

The initials section can be used as a way of confirming who was in attendance and that each person understands what was discussed and any follow up they need to

Notes: There are two sections per page and they can be printed back to back to allow four meetings' worth of notes to be on each page.

Teacher-Researcher Collaborations as Contexts for Learning Susan R Goldman, Cindy E. Hmelo-Silver, Eleni A. Kyza, 2025-09-26 Collaborative design in which both teachers and researchers participate can be a powerful context for capacity and knowledge building. However, typically the focus is on what and how teachers learn in co design efforts. As important is how researchers learn through co design with teachers. Co design is an expansive learning context because it juxtaposes goals, purposes, and outcomes of multiple participants and communities. Emergent tensions expand opportunities for learning of all participants and communities. The chapters in this volume exemplify a range of co design contexts and thereby illuminate different expansive learning contexts for teachers and researchers. This book was originally published as a special issue of Cognition and Instruction. Disrupting the Teacher

Opportunity Gap Jon Saphier, 2023-07-25. The teachers aren't the problem; it's the system that needs fixing. The missing element in 70 years of school reform is a sound focus on High Expertise Teaching. We could have it in any district regardless of zip code if we reengineered the twelve processes that impact teachers' knowledge and skill. A handbook for action and a persuasive case for making every school a reliable engine of constant learning, this book outlines the actions necessary to ensure High Expertise Teaching reaches more children more of the time. Informed by a substantial research base and decades of implementation, scholar-practitioner Jon Saphier presents the foundational elements of High Expertise Teaching in this capstone work along with a comprehensive plan for effective implementation to scale. An assets-based approach to high expectations, culturally responsive teaching, and rigor. Templates for reengineering school and district-based processes. Guidance for leaders on honing their own skills to implement change. Excellent teaching is complex and demanding with challenges beyond what any teacher preparation program can cover. That's why we must create a workplace environment that enables and prioritizes continuous professional learning about High Expertise Teaching.
