Trauma in First Person Amos Goldberg, 2017-11-20 An examination of what can be learned by looking at the journals and diaries of Jews living during the Holocaust What are the effects of radical oppression on the human psyche What happens to the inner self of the powerless and traumatized victim especially during times of widespread horror In this bold and deeply penetrating book Amos Goldberg addresses diary writing by Jews under Nazi persecution Throughout Europe in towns villages ghettos forests hideouts concentration and labor camps and even in extermination camps Jews of all ages and of all cultural backgrounds described in writing what befell them Goldberg claims that diary and memoir writing was perhaps the most important literary genre for Jews during World War II Goldberg considers the act of writing in radical situations as he looks at diaries from little known victims as well as from brilliant diarists such as Chaim Kaplan and Victor Kemperer Goldberg contends that only against the background of powerlessness and inner destruction can Jewish responses and resistance during the Holocaust gain their proper meaning This is a book that deserves to be read well beyond Holocaust studies Goldberg s theoretical insights into life stories and his readings of law language and what he calls the epistemological grey zone provide a stunning antidote to our unthinking treatment of survivors as celebrities as opposed to just people who have suffered
