

Closing Ceremony Speech - SGS MUN 2019

We were all here this weekend to represent our countries, push ourselves in debate, and pass good resolutions. But although our success in these things is important to us, I would like to take a few minutes to talk about, not success, but failure.

Having participated in our discussions, we should remember that there is no such thing as an overnight success; it's a fallacy, a myth pedalled in a world where someone may be virally catapulted to fame as an internet phenomenon in a matter of 24 hours. What I would like us to dwell on as this weekend is drawing to a close, is the work, the process that takes us towards success, towards our goals. That process sometimes includes failure. Not winning an award, but focusing on learning and improving.

There was once a lady in a market place, she saw Picasso and asked him for a self-portrait. He agreed...and drew a perfect picture in 30 seconds. He then handed it back to her and asked for $30,000. She questioned how it could cost that much when it only took him 30 seconds. He replied, "It took me 30 years to be able draw that in 30 seconds".

It's amazing how - so often - the time taken to achieve success is forgotten; how frequently we forget what lies beyond the tip of the iceberg, the shadowy section underneath the water. But that part, the part we don't see, the part full of failure, learning and progress, is absolutely what makes success possible. If we have experienced that success today, it is because we have invested time, valued experience and learned from our mistakes and failures.

When you look at the definition of failure in the dictionary, it is defined by three words: lack of success. If we fear failure and imperfection, it ultimately means that we don't value growth and learning, it means we don't value experience and struggle, and our obsession with winning means that we're actually letting go of what we could be learning at every single point. So I hope that this weekend you have been brave and courageous in your discussions, have not be afraid to express your views. To those of you who did not win awards today, keep trying. There are always more conferences to get involved in. Learn from your mistakes, whether it is improving your public speaking skills, spending more time researching issues or gaining confidence in the committee room. Being open to improvement is important.

Mega-Events and Urban Legacies Eduardo Alberto Cusce Nobre, 2016-11-23 This book examines the urban legacy of the 2014 football World Cup in Brazil across the seven cities that hosted matches The authors all experts and natives of South America analyse the context and impacts of hosting the World Cup for each of the host cities The chapters use a range of background data and local knowledge and understanding to critically assess what benefits or disadvantages came along with bidding for and hosting World Cup final games and importantly considers who the beneficiaries where and are It further provides detailed empirical evidence that highlights a growing trend in sporting mega events the overestimation of benefits and an underestimation of costs involved in hosting The book adds to the critical literature that provides a counterweight to governments aspirations to use mega events for the purposes of development and or globalization irrespective of the views of their citizens

Gaming the Stage Gina Bloom,2018-07-12 Rich connections between gaming and theater stretch back to the 16th and 17th centuries when England s first commercial theaters appeared right next door to gaming houses and blood sport arenas In the first book length exploration of gaming in the early modern period Gina Bloom shows that theaters succeeded in London s new entertainment marketplace largely because watching a play and playing a game were similar experiences Audiences did not just see a play they were encouraged to play the play and knowledge of gaming helped them become better theatergoers Examining dramas written for these theaters alongside evidence of analog games popular then and today Bloom argues for games as theatrical media and theater as an interactive gaming technology Gaming the Stage also introduces a new archive for game studies scenes of onstage gaming which appear at climactic moments in dramatic literature Bloom reveals plays to be systems of information for theater spectators games of withholding divulging speculating and wagering on knowledge Her book breaks new ground through examinations of plays such as The Tempest Arden of Faversham A Woman Killed with Kindness and A Game at Chess the histories of familiar games such as cards backgammon and chess less familiar ones like Game of the Goose and even a mixed reality theater videogame

Intersections of Sport and Society in Creative Writing Lee McGowan,Kasey Symons,2023-11-18 This edited collection is positioned at the nexus of sports society and creative writing In its explorations of the intersections of sports writing analysis of literary contributions and examinations of craft it offers rare consideration of a rich diversity of form in narratives that occur in and as creative practice Included in the collection are dynamic academic investigations into football writing and poetry focused on community sporting activities in Afghanistan to those addressing the intersections of writing and boxing in the reflexive reclamation of the post trauma self the absence of women in the rodeo and who and what is represented in our sports shelves This book breaks new ground in approaches to sport s role in creative writing and what creative writing can provide in furthering our understanding of sport in society The works in this edited book draw on a diverse range of methods to interrogate the processes concepts and liminal spaces through an intersectional array of voices offering analysis and insight into the application of creative writing knowledge and practice in relation to sport and its impact on wider discipline discussion and research It is relevant to students and scholars studying and researching creative writing sports writing sports studies cultural studies and sports media studies Spitting in the Soup Mark Johnson,2016-07-01 Doping is as old as organized sports From baseball to horse racing cycling to track and field drugs have been used to enhance performance for 150 years For much of that time doping to do better was expected It was doping to throw a game that stirred outrage Today though athletes are vilified for using performance enhancing drugs Damned as moral deviants who shred the fair play fabric dopers are an affront to the athletes who don t take shortcuts But this tidy view swindles sports fans While we may want the world sorted into villains and victims putting the blame on athletes alone ignores decades of history in which teams coaches governments the media scientists sponsors sports federations and even spectators have played a role The truth about doping in sports is messy and shocking because it holds a mirror to our own reluctance to spit in the soup that is to tell the truth about the spectacle we crave In Spitting in the Soup sports journalist Mark Johnson explores how the deals made behind closed doors keep drugs in sports Johnson unwinds the doping culture from the early days when pills meant progress and uncovers the complex relationships that underlie elite sports culture the essence of which is not to play fair but to push the boundaries of human performance It s easy to assume that drugs in sports have always been frowned upon but that s not true Drugs in sports are old It s banning drugs in sports that is new Spitting in the Soup offers a bitingly honest clear eyed look at why that s so and what it will take to kick pills out of the locker room once and for all
