Military Review, 1997

On the Subject of Citizenship Suren Pillay, 2023-01-26 This volume brings together reflections on citizenship political violence race ethnicity and gender by some of the most critical voices of our times Detailed and wide ranging individual reflections take the writings of prominent Ugandan political theorist Mahmood Mamdani as a touchstone for thinking about the world from Africa Contributors apply this theory to argue that we cannot make sense of the political contentions of difference identity and citizenship today without understanding the legacies of colonial rule on our world

Chapters examine the persistence of the past and how we must reckon with its tragedies its injustices and its utopias in order to chart a new politics the politics of possible futures that are more inclusive and more egalitarian and that can think of difference in more equitable ways In a time when the call to decolonize knowledge and politics rings loud and clear this is both a timely and a crucial intervention Readings in the International Relations of Africa Tom Young, 2016-01-11 These readings in international relations in Africa grapple with the continent's changing place in the world The essays confront issues such as the increasing tempo of armed conflict the tendency of Western states and agencies to intervene in African settings the presence of China and the health of African states and their ability to participate in the global economy Questions regarding sovereignty leading regional actors conflict and resolution and the neoliberal African renaissance add to the broad thematic coverage presented in this timely volume

'To Serve and Protect': The Inkathagate Scandal Laurence Piper, 2024-12-02 This book provides a detailed account of the history consequences and events leading up to the Inkathagate Scandal which changed the course of South African history It states that Inkathagate was the work of one man Brian Morrow who outraged by the racism corruption and torture rife in the Security Branch of the South African Police in Durban where he worked resolved to do something to expose the reality of apartheid hidden from white South Africa and the world It also discusses the Inkatha files which Morrow had covertly copied and handed to the media in 1991 and also analyses Morrow's purpose ambitions and what followed after Print editions not for sale in Sub Saharan Africa This book is part of Routledge's co published series 30 Years of Democracy in South Africa in collaboration with UNISA Press which reflects on the past years of a democratic South Africa and assesses the future opportunities and challenges AF Press Clips United States Department of State. Ruth First and Joe Slovo in the War Against Apartheid Alan Wieder, 2013-07-01 Ruth First and Joe Slovo, husband and wife, were leaders of the war to end apartheid in South Africa. Communists, scholars, parents, and uncompromising militants, they were the perfect enemies for the white police state. Together, they were swept up in the growing resistance to apartheid and together they experienced repression and exile. Their contributions to the liberation struggle as individuals and as a couple are undeniable. Ruth agitated tirelessly for the overthrow of apartheid, first in South Africa and then from abroad, and Joe directed much of the armed struggle carried out by the famous Umkhonto we Sizwe. Only one of them, however, would survive to see the fall of the old regime and the founding of a new democratic South Africa. This book, the first extended biography of Ruth First and Joe Slovo, is a remarkable account of one couple and the revolutionary moment in which they lived. Alan Wieder's deeply researched work draws on the usual primary and secondary sources but also an extensive oral history that he has collected over many years. By weaving the documentary record together with personal interviews, Wieder portrays the complexities and contradictions of this extraordinary couple and their efforts to navigate a time of great tension, upheaval, and revolutionary hope.
