Green-Briggs, 2022-10-06 Caribbean Women's Migration Windrush Era Housing Experiences and Aspirations is a qualitative case study analysis of eight London-based women. The main purpose of the research was to document the housing histories of each subject over half a century since their arrival and subsequent settlement in the United Kingdom. The study highlights several themes including the exploration of Caribbean women's migration literature during the Windrush period (1948-1970), racial discrimination as it relates to Caribbean housing access, continued patterns of black and ethnic minority concentration and segregation in inner-city metropolitan areas. Caribbean Windrush women and men have strived to elevate their living standards and have shown resourcefulness in overcoming barriers and achieving their aspirations in acquiring property. They are now represented within the full spectrum of housing tenure. By documenting women's housing case studies, this study gives a voice to Caribbean women who've been marginalized because they were women and dark-skinned. Moreover, it outlines how future generations of people, black, white and people of all nationalities and cultural affiliations can work toward change in the United Kingdom. Knowledge in English Victoria Elliott, 2020-12-28 Focusing on a key area of debate within the world of secondary English, the knowledge-based curriculum, this book explores in detail the question of knowledge in the teaching of English in secondary schools, drawing on specific concrete cases and a range of academic theories. Knowledge in English also investigates how to teach both facts and skills through the required texts to produce a balanced educational experience. Elliott brings together classic texts with contemporary knowledge and viewpoints to critically examine teaching in the English literature classroom and situates them within the broader cultural and political context.
