True Professionalism David H. Maister, Robert Galford, Charles Green, 2012-12-11 Are some technically competent professionals who work hard and long hours true professionals or are they just cruisers In this deeply illuminating call to arms David Maister the world's premier consultant to professional service firms vigorously challenges individuals to examine closely the meaning of their work and reach beyond their grasp The pursuit of the highest standards Maister argues is the primary road to commercial success He presents a visionary reconception of professionalism that encompasses a lifelong dedication to self improvement a personal commitment to excellence and a true spirit of service to clients Looking first at the individual professional Maister dares those good corporate citizens who do their duty to discover what they truly love to do Turning to the institution Maister focuses on what he calls the instability of professional service firms today and offers advice on how to invest in skill building David Maister's message is a recipe for success and for professional satisfaction making TRUE PROFESSIONALISM a worthy successor to his previous writings Managing The Professional Service Firm David H. Maister, 2012-12-11 Professional service firms differ from other business enterprises in two distinct ways first they provide highly customised services thus cannot apply many of the management principles developed for product based industries Second professional services are highly personalised involving the skills of individuals Such firms must therefore compete not only for clients but also for talented professionals Drawing on more than ten years of research and consulting to these unique and creative companies David Maister explores issues ranging from marketing and business development to multinational strategies human resources policies to profit improvement strategic planning to effective leadership While these issues can be complex Maister simplifies them by recognising that every professional service firm in the world regardless of size specific profession or country of operation has the same mission statement outstanding service to clients satisfying careers for its people and financial success for its owners True Professionalism David H.
