,2023-04-03 South Africa's democratic government inherited a divided and unequal system of education. Under apartheid, South Africa had nineteen different educational departments separated by race, language, geography, and ideology. This education system prepared learners in different ways for the positions they were expected to occupy in social, economic, and political life under apartheid and was funded and resourced in ways that favoured white people and disadvantaged black people who remain in the working class. The newly elected democratic government in 1994 laid a foundation for a single national education system. Twenty-five years after the dawn of democracy, education is still in a parlous state in many communities in South Africa, but it is in the rural areas, mainly in the former homelands, that learners are most disadvantaged. Student-Teacher Interaction in Online Learning Environments

Wright, Robert D., 2014-09-30. As face-to-face interaction between student and instructor is not present in online learning environments, it is increasingly important to understand how to establish and maintain social presence in online learning. Student-Teacher Interaction in Online Learning Environments provides successful strategies and procedures for developing policies to bring about an awareness of the practices that enhance online learning. This reference book provides building blocks to help improve the outcome of online coursework and discusses social presence to help improve performance, interaction, and a sense of community for all participants in an online arena. This book is of essential use to online educators, administrators, researchers, and students.

Sociology in South Africa, R. Sooryamoorthy, 2016-08-13

This book is the first comprehensive account of the history and current state of South African sociology. Providing a holistic picture of the subject both as it is taught in universities and as a field of research, it reveals the trajectories of a discipline in a challenging socio-political context. With the support of historical and scientometric data, it demonstrates how the changing political situation from colonialism to apartheid to democracy has influenced the nature, direction, and foci of sociological research in the country. The author shows how during the apartheid era, sociology was professionally fragmented and divided along language and race lines. It was, however, able to flourish with the advent of democracy in 1994 and has become a unique academic movement. This insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of the social sciences and all those interested in the history and society of South Africa.

Measurement Methodologies to Assess the Effectiveness of Global Online Learning

Isaias, Pedro, Issa, Tomayess, Kommers, Piet, 2022-02-18. While online learning was an existing practice, the COVID-19 pandemic greatly accelerated its capabilities and forced educational organizations to swiftly introduce online learning for all units. Though schools will not always be faced with forced online learning, it is apparent that there are clear advantages and disadvantages to this teaching method with its usage in the future cemented. As such, it is imperative that methods for measuring and assessing the effectiveness of online and blended learning are examined in order to improve outcomes and future practices. Measurement Methodologies to Assess the Effectiveness of Global Online Learning aims to assess the effectiveness of online teaching and learning in normal and pandemic situations by addressing challenges and opportunities of adoption of online platforms as well as effective learning strategies, investigating the best pedagogical practices in digital learning, questioning how to improve student motivation and performance, and managing and measuring academic workloads online. Covering a wide range of topics such as the future of education and digital literacy, it is ideal for teachers, instructional designers, curriculum developers, educational software developers, academics, researchers, and students. Technology, Innovation, Entrepreneurship and Education David Crawford, Jeremy Foss, Nicholas Lambert, Martin Reed, Jennah Kriebel, 2024-06-28. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Technology Innovation Entrepreneurship and Education TIE 2023 held in Cambridge UK in September 2023. The 17 full papers were carefully selected from 44 submissions and cover four areas: international school projects, technology in education, technology for content creation, and future content delivery. ECEL 2020 19th European Conference on e-Learning Prof. Dr.-Ing. Carsten Busc., Prof. Dr. Tilo Wendler, Martin Steinicke, 2020-10-29. Reviews of National Policies for Education: South Africa 2008 OECD, 2008-09-05. Gives a brief overview of regional issues and the history of education in South Africa and describes the development of education in the country over the past 15 years.
