Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08 The university today is a postmodern neo liberal competitive boundary less knowledge conglomerate a far cry from its historical traditional classical and collegial roots There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe characterised by complexity and change Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role nowadays Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts fundraisers politicians and diplomats Deanship in the Global South Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration

Monitoring and Evaluation as a Tool for Enhancing Good Governance in the City of Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality, 2022. This study sought to explore the effectiveness of Monitoring and Evaluation as good governance tools at the local sphere of government with a specific reference to the City of Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality hereafter referred to as CoT. The study was built on the audit outcomes by the Auditor General South Africa who in 2014, 2015 and 2017/2018 identified CoT as one of the municipalities that execute less roles with achieving administrative accountability. By its own admission, government through the Department of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs (COGTA) accepted the above findings and further introduced the new tool called Municipal Assessment Tool (MAT) which is currently being piloted to replace the ineffective traditional M & E systems in municipalities.
