Leap 4.0. African Perspectives on the Fourth Industrial Revolution Zamanzima Mazibuko-Makena, Erika Kraemer-Mbula., 2021-04-09 Leap 4.0 African Perspectives on the Fourth Industrial Revolution seeks to identify the challenges and opportunities the 4IR presents to South Africa and the rest of the African continent, especially to workers and marginalised sectors of society. Authors examine the prerequisites for the successful introduction of the 4IR, including infrastructure, skilled personnel, and appropriate regulation. They underline the importance of inclusive innovation with a deliberate objective to create net new jobs and reduce inequality. The 4IR is well established in many parts of the world with technological advances driving profound social and economic change. However, for many developing countries, particularly countries in Africa, the 4IR may not offer the anticipated leap forward. There is a danger that the continent may find itself dictated to by experiences that are not in tune with its social contexts. Decolonisation in Universities Jonathan Jansen, 2019-08-01 In this collection of case studies and stories from the field, South African scholars come together to trade stories on how to decolonise the university. Shortly after the giant bronze statue of Cecil John Rhodes came down at the University of Cape Town, student protestors called for the decolonisation of universities. It was a word hardly heard in South Africa's struggle lexicon, and many asked: What exactly is decolonisation? This edited volume brings together the best minds in curriculum theory to address this important question. In the process, several critical questions are raised: Is decolonisation simply a slogan for addressing other pressing concerns on campuses and in society? What is the colonial legacy with respect to curriculum, and can it be undone? How is the project of curriculum decolonisation similar to or different from the quest for postcolonial knowledge, indigenous knowledge, or a critical theory of knowledge? What does decolonisation mean in a digital age where relationships between knowledge and power are shifting? The book combines strong conceptual analyses with novel case studies of attempts to do decolonisation in settings as diverse as South Africa, Uganda, Tanzania, and Mauritius. Such a comparative perspective enables reasonable judgements to be made about the prospects for institutional take-up within the curriculum of century-old universities. ICMLG 2018 6th International Conference on Management Leadership and Governance Dr Vincent Ribiere, 2018-05-24 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 6th International Conference on Management Leadership and Governance (ICMLG 2018), which is being hosted this year by the Institute for Knowledge and Innovation Southeast Asia (IKI SEA), a Centre of Excellence at Bangkok University, Thailand, on 24-25 May 2018. Contemporary Perspectives on Art and International Development Polly Stupples, Katerina Teaiwa, 2016-10-26 Visual artists, craftspeople, musicians, and performers have been supported by the development community for at least twenty years yet there has been little grounded and critical research into the practices and politics of that support This new Routledge book remedies that omission and brings together varied perspectives from artists policy makers and researchers working in the Pacific Africa Latin America and Europe to explore the challenges and opportunities of supporting the arts in the development context The book offers a series of grounded analyses which cover strategies for the sustainability of arts enterprises innovative evaluation methods theoretical engagements with questions of art agency and social change artists entanglements with legal and structural frameworks processes of cultural mapping and the artist donor interface The creative economy is increasingly recognized as a driver of development and this book also investigates the contribution made by the arts to the processes of international development and considers how those processes can best be supported by development agencies Contemporary Perspectives on Art and International Development gives scholars of Development Studies Social and Cultural Geography Anthropology Cultural Policy Cultural Studies and Global Studies a contextually and thematically diverse range of insights into this emerging research field
